U. N. Streaks for 38th To Nip Fleeing Enemy

TOKYO, Friday, Sept. 29 (AP)—General MacArthur flew today to war scarred Seoul for a triumphal entry into that liberated capital while his United Nations forces chased the retreating Korean Reds toward the 38th parallel.

A South Korean general predicted his troops would reach that artificial boundary of North Korea by Saturday.

The Republic's president, Syngman Rhee, returning to Seoul, called upon the Communists to surrender or die.

"The Communists can no longer doubt the fact that there's only one question to be answered," said Rhee in an address prepared for the celebration of the 500-year-old capital's liberation.

"That is how many want to die and how many want to surrender."

Snipers still fired through Seoul's streets and fires still smouldered as MacArthur and Rhee headed for the capital.

Brig. Gen. Kong Nam Bong, operations officer for the Republic's forces, predicted his troops would reach the 38th parallel within 24 hours. He gave his views at U. S. Eighth Army headquarters in Korea. The Eighth's communique said two divisions of South Korean troops were within 45 miles of the parallel.

LATEST COMMUNIQUES reported the South Koreans were meeting little opposition in their northward dash.

Nowhere in South Korea today were the Reds reported attempting an organized stand.

Their last resistance inside the war-torn old capital of Seoul was at an end. Their Army was smashed and in imminent danger of annihilation.

A U. S. Tenth Army communique issued early Friday said the last of the Reds in Seoul withdrew along roads leading north to Uijongbu. Uijongbu is a highway hub 12 miles north of Seoul and 18 miles south of the 38th parallel dividing line which the North Koreans crossed early June 25 in their surprise assault on the southern republic.

The communique said the U. S. First Marine division cleaned out the final pockets of resistance in Seoul and moved onto high ground north and northwest of the city.

In Southeastern Seoul, held by the U. S. Seventh Infantry division, Red resistance also ceased.

American troops sauntered, relaxed, through the debris-littered heart of the city. They had won it from the Reds in a seven-day siege and assault.

Associated Press correspondent Don Whitehead quoted Col. Lewis (Chesty) Puller, commander of the First Marine regiment, that the last Reds pulled out of the city at 6 p. m. Wednesday (4 a. m. Wednesday Pottstown time). The Tenth corps communique indicated some minor resistance may have been cleaned out later than that.

Santa Almost Ready For Overseas Trip

Uncle Sam, in the form of the overseas postman, is digging down in his trunk and putting on his red uniform, white whiskers and black leather boots.

He's getting ready to deliver those Christmas parcels to Pottstown's husbands, sons and friends serving with the armed forces overseas.

And he's got some good advice to residents here who want their servicemen to get the most out of Christmas on foreign shores.

First of all, Christmas parcels destined for points outside the United States should be mailed between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15, he announced last night.

THEN HE GOT MORE specific.

Packages for servicemen in Japan, Korea and the islands of the Pacific, should be mailed early, and not later than Nov. 1.

Packages for Navy and Marine personnel in remote areas should be mailed even earlier—not later than Oct. 15.

Only parcels for personnel known to be in an area which would permit it, presumably the Army of Occupation in Europe, should be posted after Oct. 15.

There's no better reason to do your Christmas shopping early.

Strange Will Ask Police Plan Trial

Burgess William A. Griffith will be asked to give an alternate police schedule a trial, when the police committee meets on Friday, Oct. 6.

Earl R. Strange, committee chairman, said yesterday he would request the burgess to try his plan.

"I've spoken to practically every man on the force and they're in favor of it," Strange declared, "including the older men."

Since the beginning of the month, the schedule drawn up by Griffith and Chief James A. Laughead has been in effect, although it has been criticized by the men on the force and by several councilmen on the police committee.

After hearing the criticism, Griffith said he was willing to receive suggestions.

The chief complaints have been that the system fails to give most of the borough protection late at night and during the early morning hours and that it gives a few men permanent day shift while most men must work 10 weeks at night before going on day shift for two weeks.

Police committee members have told Griffith that the working hours have lowered morale on the force.

STRANGE GAVE Griffith his own suggestions for a system at the Sept. 11 council meeting. This system, which also has been suggested by Councilman Gerald J. Daly, would put the entire police force on three rotating eight-hour shifts.

Each shift would work two weeks. No preference would be given for seniority or for any other reason.

More than two weeks ago, Griffith said he would hold off examining Strange's system for a week, to wait for other suggestions to come in.

One week later, Griffith said he would begin considering them.

Wednesday night the burgess said, "I said I would give all of

URW to Seek Wage Boosts at Firestone Talks

An upward revision in the general wage level will be sought by the United Rubber Workers (CIO) in negotiations with the Firestone Tire and Rubber company which open in Cleveland, Ohio, Wednesday, it was announced last night.

Pottstown Local 336 will be represented at the wage talks by William Rhoades, president, who will be the only negotiator sent to the bargaining table.

Rhoades will leave Pottstown early Monday morning in order to be on hand for a meeting of the Firestone section of the international policy committee on Tuesday.

One of the union demands when the wage talks begin, will be a general 25-cent hourly increase for all workers at the Firestone plants. The new wage figure was reached after a two-day meeting of the international policy committee in Columbus, Ohio, on July 24 and 25.

The committee also approved a demand for an additional six-cent increase to correct area and plant differentials, and a further general

Park Group to Take Action on Proposals By Planning Expert

Suggestions made for the improvement of Memorial park by a park planning expert Wednesday night will be taken up when the Memorial Park association board of directors meets Oct. 23, Thomas A. McCaslin 3d, president of the association, said yesterday.

The park planner was Allen Buritt, of New York city, associated with the National Recreation association. He spoke to 14 members of the Memorial Park association and of the Pottstown Recreation commission in borough hall Wednesday night.

One major suggestion was that park projects be completed, one at a time. Now, he said, money is being spread thin over many projects, and some contributors are complaining.

He also suggested that the plans for Memorial park be revised and brought up to date, at a cost of not more than $150. The men at the meeting approved this idea, but McCaslin said he wanted to bring it up before the other association members, before acting upon it.

"Mr. Buritt's suggestions will certainly be brought up when we meet on Oct. 23," McCaslin declared yesterday.

He also pointed out that a written summary of Buritt's remarks of Wednesday night would have been received by then.

Man's Errand for Benefactor Ends in Death on Route 100

Elderly Grocer's Car Strikes Pedestrian

A 67-year-old man without family or job was injured fatally yesterday morning when hit by a car opposite North Coventry High school as he was setting out on foot along Route 100 to do an unasked favor for an elderly woman who had befriended him.

John Kaye, who stayed in the home of Bertha Irwin across Route 100 from the high school, was pronounced dead at 8:44 o'clock by Dr. Warren Brown in Pottstown hospital of multiple injuries, including a skull fracture at the right temple.

The driver of the northbound 1938 coupe that hit him was Elmer Hiestand, 84, Spring City RD, who was on his way to Pottstown to get merchandise for his general store in Vincent, which was built in 1848 and which he has been working at, off and on, since 1886.

The man who was driving behind Hiestand—Stanley Wiss, Kingston, Luzerne county—told North Coventry Police Chief Daniel W. Guldin that he and Hiestand had been traveling between 24 and 26 miles an hour.

Chief Guldin investigated the accident despite the fact that he still is recovering from the effects of a heart attack and has not yet been permitted by his physician to do full-time duty. Devon State police assisted him in the early stages of the investigation.

MISS IRWIN, A white-haired woman in failing health who has provided Kaye, a long-time roamer, with food and shelter recently, said that Kaye had insisted on walking to the Pottstown postoffice with a letter she had written to a nephew of hers in Pittsburgh.

Miss Irwin said she had tried to persuade him simply to take the letter to her rural mailbox across the road from the home.

"He wanted to take it to the postoffice for me," she said. "I told him it was all foolishness—that he should just take it to the box, that the mail carrier would get it."

But the man she had befriended insisted on setting out toward Pottstown to please her.

"Oh, if I only hadn't let it go then," Miss Irwin said with tears

"Is he going to live?" The face of Elmer Hiestand, longtime general storekeeper in Vincent, Spring City RD, who will be 85 on Jan. 20, seems to be asking this question as he looks down on the body of the man who stepped in front of his car yesterday morning on Route 100, opposite North Coventry High school. John Kaye, 67, Pottstown RD 1, still was alive when this photo was taken, but he died a few minutes later as he was being driven to Pottstown hospital.

Fire Victim Stunned At Outpouring of Aid

"I never knew that people were so kind."

This was the reaction yesterday of Andrew K. McDonald, Becker road, Upper Frederick township, after friends, neighbors and total strangers had pooled efforts to help him after Wednesday's fire that destroyed his home and virtually—all his family's possessions.

Within three hours late Wednesday night, people of the section had raised $150, to tide his family over in the emergency.

Mrs. Grace Cornish, Deep Creek road, Green Lane, offered the McDonald family the use of her home, which she has been away from recently. The offer was relayed to the McDonald's by Mrs. Cornish's sister, Mrs. Henry M. Fisher, also of Deep Creek road.

McDonald had announced that he was going to start rebuilding as soon as possible. No sooner had he said it than neighbors began coming forward with offers of the use of machinery, material and their labor.

"I'M GOING to have it built by Christmas," McDonald said, "if I have to work every day, every hour."

Capt. Meral E. Cox, Salvation Army, had his mobile unit take a fresh change of clothing for McDonald, his wife, three daughters and his father-in-law.

The Salvation Army today will bring the McDonald's a load of dishes, cooking utensils and clothing, being purchased by Spicer Mutual Benefit associ-

Through-Traffic Plan May Be Worked Out On Basis of Survey

Indications that Pottstown's ailing system of traffic control may get a shot in the arm, following a searching diagnosis of its ailments, came last night.

Earl R. Strange, chairman of borough council's police committee, asserted that the diagnosis, long-overdue from the State, should provide a basis for working out some answer to Pottstown's lack of a through-traffic system.

Until the results of a State-sponsored "origin and destination" survey conducted for three months here in the Spring are received and examined, there is nothing to be done, he said.

Any changes which would be made now, he pointed out, might be in opposition to recommendations put into effect as a result of the survey.

THE SURVEY, Strange said, was undertaken to give responsible groups here "an over all" picture of the local traffic situation, as well as to plan for the proposed new bridge across the Schuylkill river at Stowe, linking Routes 422 and 100.

At the time the survey was completed by approximately 30 workers, the police committee chairman said, the State promised to forward the results in 60 days. The report is overdue and inquiries to Harrisburg have suggested that it will not be received in less than three weeks.

Draft Board to Send 64 for Exams Oct. 13

Pottstown's Local Board 110 will send 64 men to Philadelphia for pre-induction physical examinations on Oct 13, it was announced yesterday from State selective Service headquarters in Harrisburg.

They will be among the 19,228 to be examined throughout Pennsylvania next month. A total of 4672 men will be inducted from the State, but the quota of each board has not been announced.

The call represents an increase of about one-third over the September call.

Pottstown sent its first batch of men, 12 of them, to the Army on Sept. 19. Of the 47 men who received their physicals on Sept. 5, thirty passed. Some of these men are scheduled to be inducted in October.

Barto RD Youth Dies Instantly As Truck Upsets

Carl H. Hilbert, Barto RD 1, 19-year-old seasonal orchard worker, was killed instantly yesterday afternoon when the truck he was driving upset on a District township road in Berks county.

Dr. William H. Henninger, Bally, who pronounced him dead at the scene, said the youth died of pulmonary (lung) hemorrhage and severe bruises of the chest.

It was believed that some part of the truck crushed his chest as the upside-down vehicle skidded past him on the black macadam road.

The youth, who had been working during the peach and apple harvests on the Landis Store orchards of Newton E. Treicher, Barto, was driving a 1935 flat-bodied, cabless truck at the time.

He was hauling 35 bushels of Delicious apples from the orchard at Landis Store to the Treicher pack-

DRIVER STARTS HIT-RUN TERM

Court Sends Man to Jail For Eight Months in Death of Mrs. Newman

As the aftermath of another fatal accident on Route 100 in North Coventry, only a few hundred feet south of the spot where yesterday's fatal accident occurred, Robert D. Swavely, 26, of 726 Walnut street, began serving an eight-month sentence on a hit-run charge.

He pleaded guilty Wednesday in Chester County court, West Chester, to the charge, arising from the death of Mrs. Catherine Newman, 40, Birchrunville, who was hit by Swavely's car, then two other cars at 3 a. m. the past April 23 while walking along the road.

Judge Ernest Harvey, who pronounced the sentence, had declined to accept Swavely's guilty plea to a hit-run charge when he entered it the past May 9.

Judge Harvey said then that he wanted the district attorney's office to "fully explore" the posssibility of a homicide charge being placed against Swavely.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY John M. Kurtz reported back to the judge Wednesday that the Commonwealth had reopened the case, "explored every angle," but found no evidence with which to substantiate a homicide charge.

As for a manslaughter charge, Kurtz said, it had been impossible to prove which of the three cars that hit her had actually caused her death.

In passing the sentence, Judge Harvey gave Swavely credit for the three weeks he had spent in prison before obtaining bail. Swavely also was fined $100.

North Coventry Chief of Police Daniel W. Guldin, who with Devon State Trooper John Coll had conducted the original investigation, appeared at the plead-guilty session.

SWAVELY SAID he had made the rounds of Pottstown taprooms with Mrs. Newman, then started to drive her home. When they were passing the intersection of Routes 100 and 83, he said, his headlights failed on his used car, which he had purchased a few days before.

Mrs. Newman walked on

CAMPAIGN TALK BY SEN. MYERS DRAWS 150 HERE

Caravan Urges Support Of Democratic Slate in Street Corner Appearance

U. S. Sen. Francis J. Myers called for Pottstown support of the Democratic ticket in the Nov. 7 election during a rally at High and Hanover streets at noon yesterday.

The candidate for re-election addressed 150 persons from the rear of a red, white and blue trailer, converted into a campaign office. The "Victory Caravan," four cars, a station wagon and the 25-foot trailer, visited five other Montgomery county communities yesterday.

In a 15-minute talk, the Senator praised legislation enacted by Democratic administrations, "legislation that heiped us build these prosperous communities," and charged the Republicans with "making political capital out of the dying, the wounded and the dead in Korea."

Senator Myers, a heavy-set man, 48 years old, dressed in a dark blue suit, had to compete with heavy High and Hanover streets traffic as he spoke from the trailer parked on the southwest corner of the intersection, in front of the Security Trust company.

He spoke in a firm voice into a lapel microphone, halting occasionally when a particularly heavy truck rumbled slowly past.

Free Parking Space Given to Democrats

Senator Francis J. Myers' caravan was parked along the south side of High street in front of the Security Trust company, during the noon rally yesterday, with 10 meters covered by cloth bags, courtesy of the borough.

Motor Patrolman Earl J. Rhoads was assigned to place the bags on the meters before the caravan arrived shortly after noon. He removed them two hours later, after the candidates and local political, civic and labor leaders had lunched with Myers and other Democratic candidates.

Police Chief James A. Laughead said that the borough provided the parking spaces to the caravan personnel without charge, as a matter of courtesy.

Bad Crash? Nope, Sirens Hail Myers

Pottstown residents envisioned a frightful accident or a cops and robbers chase when a Pottstown police car sped from High and Hanover streets to the borough limits shortly before 12 o'clock noon yesterday.

Siren wide open, the police car raced north on Hanover street, then out North Charlotte.

But there was no accident, no robber case.

Patrolman Earl Rhoads, Pottstown policeman, merely was dashing to meet the Senator Francis J. Myers' political campaign caravan at the North Charlotte street boundry line, borough hall reported.

He later escorted the caravan to the center of town, leading the parade with his red flasher light blinking on the police car.

Area GI Recuperates After Truck Mishap At Fort Knox, Ky.

A 21-year-old Royersford RD serviceman, Sgt. Robert M. Stoudt, is recovering in a base hospital at Fort Knox, Ky., from a fracture of the right ankle and possible back injuries, it was reported last night.

Stoudt was injured the past Saturday when he fell from a truck at the Army camp.

It was the second time in less than a year the youthful soldier had been injured seriously as a result of highway accidents. The past Oct. 23, he suffered a serious laceration of his right thigh when he was pitched over the hood of a car while riding a motorcycle.

In that accident, Stoudt missed turn on Route 100, near Bucktown, and crashed against a car driven by Earl Galloway, 154 King street. His thigh was ripped open and the outer muscles of his leg were pulled apart.

He was hospitalized at Valley Forge Army hospital until he was returned to active duty and later discharged.

Stoudt served ten months in the reserve until he was recalled to service six weeks ago. He formerly resided at Pottstown RD 1.

KAYE DEATH —

in her eyes, "poor Johnnie would be alive now."

KAYE WALKED down the driveway and along the east shoulder of the road for a few feet. Then he apparently started across the street to get on the west side, which has a pavement leading down the treacherous hill toward Pottstown.

The 84-year-old storekeeper was driving his car over the brow of the hill at the school. He had to swing out a few feet to miss a car parked opposite the school on the east side.

This car had been parked by Milton Fritsche of Sycamore farms, Douglassville, who was letting out his 14-year-old son, Thomas, at the school.

As he swung back toward the east edge of the road, Hiestand said, Kaye started suddenly across the street, apparently without looking.

Kaye was knocked by the right front of the car to the steep bank on the east side of the road, about 50 feet north of the driveway he had walked down and about 40 feet beyond the rural mailbox where he might have left the letter.

A LARGE NUMBER of students, parents and teachers had seen part or all of the accident. The 14-year-old Fritsche said he had seen Kaye hurtle through the air toward the bank.

Other eye-witnesses included Oscar Darlington, 17-year-old safety patrol member, and Laine Keeler, 16, both Pottstown RD 1.

A Good Will ambulance was called by Philadelphia Electric company's office, which was contacted over the PE radio system by Harry H. Wolf, Manatawny, a PE lineman who had been working in front of the school.

William N. Christman, ambulance driver, assisted by Robert Roth, picked up Kaye's shattered body, in which there were only a few flickering signs of life. Kaye died before reaching the hospital.

The 84-year-old Hiestand, who has been driving cars for the past 40 years, had stopped his car on the west side of the road immediately.

The right front grill and radiator of his car were bent by the impact. Chief Guldin had the car taken to a Pottstown garage, and he drove Hiestand to his home in Vincent.

Hiestand was free on his own recognizance, pending final settlement of the case.

THE VICTIM OF the accident was born in Philadelphia, it was learned from Miss Irwin and from Mr. and Mrs. John Naylor, Mt. Zion avenue, South Pottstown, who also had befriended the destitute man.

Kaye's father had owned a large drugstore in Philadelphia. His father, mother and sister died when he was a young man, and he began a life of roaming.

Miss Irwin and the Naylors said he had appeared in the section every few years for the past 30 years. He was unable to do any work requiring steady concentration of effort, but made attempts to repay his friends by doing odd jobs for them.

Miss Irwin said when he appeared last at her home, several months ago, he had walked from Philadelphia.

It was learned that on the past June 1, he was picked up by Collegeville State police, with a bump on his head that he was not able to explain. He gave his address then as Philadelphia.

Chief Guldin was trying last night to contact distant relatives in Philadelphia and Bucks counties.

REPRESENTED in Wednesday's company-wide sessions will be policy committee members from eight URW locals representing about 20,000 Firestone workers.

Negotiations will be held under the wage re-opening provision of the collective bargaining agreement now in effect between the union and the company. The agreement expires March 20, 1951.

Following the July meeting of the committee, immediate notice to re-open wage negotiations was given to the company.

Both Rhoades and Robert E. Garber, international policy committee representative of Local 336, attended the previous meetings. The executive committee of the local decided to send only one man to the sessions next week.

Upper Frederick Fire Company Formed As Outgrowth of Civilian Defense Group

As the result of forming a civil defense group in Upper Frederick township, a group of men last night held the initial meeting of the Upper Frederick Fire company at Greentree in Obelisk.

When the session was adjourned, officers had been elected and plans were definitely shaping up to give the Obelisk area its own fire protection.

Heretofore, it was explained, Obelisk has depended on other communities adjacent to it for fire protection. These are principally Gilbertsville, Green Lane, Schwenkville and Boyertown.

The movement for a fire company has been afoot for the past three weeks when a group of eight men, who also are interested in a civilian defense program for the neighborhood, brought up the idea of a fire company.

Those participating in the discussions that led to last night's meeting were Goetfried Franke, George E. Gallie, Karl K. Gottschalk, John Kulp, Francis Snyder, Edward Frenzen, George Mueller and Willard Kline.

ELECTED OFFICERS are Kulp, president; Gallie, vice-president; Gottschalk, secretary; and Snyder, treasurer.

A membership drive in the area will get underway at once, it was announced. At a meeting in Greentree next Tuesday at 8 p. m., committees will be elected, and a board of directors probably will be named. Plans are shaping up for the application for a charter.

The 14 who turned out for the meeting already have surveyed the possibility of obtaining fire apparatus, and have a vehicle in mind that would be suitable.

Its purchase, according to Gallie, will not be undertaken until the membership of the company is expanded.

Woman is the masterpiece.—Confucius.

A New Assessment Needed

POTTSTOWN needs equalization of real estate assessments. Its evaluation for tax purposes is a hit and miss affair, jammed packed with inequalities that have persisted over the years.

Equalization is not what some politicians think it is.

It doesn't mean socking the middle class, the Democrats or the Republicans. It doesn't mean picking out favorites.

Equalization means every structure, every parcel of real estate is measured by the same yardstick. Everybody pays alike, which is as it should be in a democracy.

That's why Pottstown needs a scientific revaluation done by an outside firm. The present system of having ward assessors gauge the value of property is out-moded as well as fraught with danger of inaccuracies because of the human elements that enter into such work.

Pottstown already has so many inaccuracies on its books, because of these human frailties, that the present set of assessments is practically valueless. It is surprising how many homes in Pottstown are assessed at less than $1000. It is astonishing how few homes are assessed at even one third their market value.

The whole assessment system needs a re-check. It should be done by experts, with the cost shared by borough and school district authorities. In the long run, each will gain by wiping out the inaccuracies.

If an impartial, outside, expert firm does the work, it will not think of raising assessments just for revenue-producing purposes. Unfortunately, some of Pottstown's politicians think along those lines, too. They say: "Sock the rich, sock the middle class, sock the other party. And be sure to get more revenue for us to spend."

Pottstown needs a scientific reassessment because the burden of taxation is not borne equally by all property owners. Every property owner should be willing to pay his share, but only his just share.

Oops, Gen. Vaughan!

THERE is always a touch of pathos about it when someone achieves success only to flunk out later by being dropped from the Social Register or the Ten Best-Dressed Women. Our sympathies on this point are so tender that we do not even like to project Miss Sweet Pickle of 1950 into 1951, imagining the disappointment and chagrin it must be to her to become a former Miss Sweet Pickle, a has-been.

These remarks are preliminary to a word of condolence on and in behalf of Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, President Truman's military aide. Gen. Vaughan, the big deep-freeze and public-statement man, is in line to be purged from the Social List of Washington.

Apparently it is no longer enough, in the minds of the pooh-bahs who select the Social List, to wear a uniform resplendently, as no one has ever accused Gen. Vaughan of not doing. It is insufficient to know the grand strategy of protocols. Standards of the elite in the nation's capital, it seems, rise ever higher and higher, until now it's got to where a fellow is obliged to know enough not to put his big foot in his big mouth.

To End the Deficit

TO THE housewife, economy means buying less. It means less expensive cuts of meat, simpler desserts. It means that the children see fewer movies.

Economy should mean the same to the Federal Government. When taxes fail to yield enough to pay Federal expenses, spending should be reduced.

Of course, long sickness may put the family budget in the red, and war may make it necessary for the government to spend more than it receives. But when an honest family runs up bills, it begins saving to pay them as soon as possible. An honest government should do the same.

"This" vs. "Our" Country

WE DON'T like the phrase "this country", as applied to our United States of America.

It's OUR country—that is, every true and loyal American's country, and we prefer to have it called that.

There's "this" country, and then there's "that" country—both impersonal descriptions as of an unloved land. Let them stay where they are, to be called whatever their inhabitants want to call them.

But America is "OUR" country—not just some place we might happen to be living in for the moment. It's "OUR" home, the home of our children—our America, OUR country—and let's call it that!

Opposite Viewpoints on a United Fund Campaign

Charity Chisler's Idea

To the Editor: Who thought up that one-charity-fund-drive idea? One of the town chiselers who's trying to give as little as possible?

I'll tell you how it works: The chinchy guy gives two bucks to the Community Chest. Then he gives one buck to the Salvation Army. He might break down and give another dollar to the Red Cross.

Have one drive for them all? Know what he'd give? Just as little as possible. And his total might be two bucks. Catch on?

Pottstown I. M. A. GRABBER

Favors Single Campaign

To the Editor: If there is anything more than talk in the suggestion that a joint fund raising campaign be started here, in place of a lot of separate ones, a good many people will be happy.

The local clubmen took a step in the right direction when they organized their system of contributions.

The same should be done for the many appeals for money.

Once such a system is organized and adopted, it should prohibit any and all other charities or what-have-you from actively soliciting contributions.

Wouldn't we be in a mess if, every time the U. S. government needed money for a couple thousand more warplanes or more aid to Europe, it would add a little more on the withholding tax? As it is, we know what we're going to have to pay, usually a year in advance.

Set up a joint public charities campaign. It would save much money in administration costs.

Where Are Cheerleaders?

To the Editor: Congratulations, Trojans, for the wonderful teamwork against Upper Merion High school—even if you did it alone.

As for the cheerleaders, we might just as well not have any, for all they did was pose pretty for the benefit of the other team. Well, girls, the Atlantic City beauty contest is over now, so get on the ball!

Upper Merion High school had one-third the spectators Pottstown had and they made ten times as much noise. After all, you do follow the example which is set for you.

What's wrong, girls? Are you afraid to support your team? Don't you care about the morale of the Trojans?

Don't forget they are your team. Don't let them down this Friday night.

Pottstown RD 3 TWO SPECTATORS

Accolade for Dr. Bunche

To the Editor: It is interesting and should be most challenging to America to learn that Dr. Ralph Bunche, a member of the most loyal yet most underprivileged minorities, the Negro race, is to be awarded the Nobel peace prize.

Every American should know that Dr. Bunche refused to serve in our President's cabinet as assistant Secretary of State because of racial intolerance.

No Negro, regardless of his wealth, culture or religion can fill a position of prominence in America with dignity and respect.

It is high time that some of the millions being spent to combat Communistic aggression be used to fight our national policy of racial segregation and discrimination.

Sumneytown JAMES H. DOWNING

Wants Those Hours Back

To the Editor: You make such a fuss over the change of time.

What is this daylight saving business anyway?

Is there an alphabetical agency to which I may now apply for withdrawal of all the hours I have saved since April 30?

Spring City RD 1 A. B. S.

Our Civilian Defense

To the Editor: I read in Saturday's paper where the civilian defense organization wants to have Pottstown on its toes for a bombing attack from the air.

The idea may be good, but it ought not be organized in such a way that it will provide a lot of people with uniforms, personal authority and a chance to parade around town in fancy station wagons.

Give the jobs to those who really will be some good if an emergency does come. And forget about those plush station wagons and practice with some good, substantial trucks, of which there are plenty and are the only vehicles that would be of much use in a bombing attack.

WASHINGTON

15-Year-Old Oil Steals May Bring Senate Quiz

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28—Revelations of a 15-year oil steal that was put over on thousands of Midwest and Southern farmers may provoke a major Senate investigation of Agriculture's handling of the nation's petroleum resources which it acquired in farm foreclosures from 1934 to 1949.

Besides nicking the taxpayers millions of dollars, these deals have deprived former and present property owners of large sums and cast a cloud on their titles. There are also signs of collusion between certain inside parties and purchasers of land which began to produce oil immediately after the sales at bargain rates.

The details aroused considerable indignation when submitted to the Senate by Senator John J. Williams, of Delaware, who had conducted a quiet, one-man inquiry for many months before he could obtain confirmatory facts from reluctant and evasive officials. However, official reports and admissions bear out his findings and charges.

REVERSAL: Indeed, the policy was reversed almost as soon as he began asking questions about the situation. But the reversal was not ordered until 1949, fifteen years after the questionable program was inaugurated during the Henry Wallace regime. The farmers who lost out have no recourse.

Senator Williams is especially interested in the fact that property sold for a song by the government immediately assumed a far higher value because of the discovery and actual production of oil. He expects to have more complete information for his astonished associates when Congress reconvenes in November.

SIMPLE: The process of siphoning petroleum profits from distressed farmers and subsequent buyers was amazingly simple, as explained by spokesmen for such various Agriculture agencies as the Farm Credit Administration and the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation.

During the depression, these organizations acquired thousands of farms throughout the country, but particularly in the midwest and south. When the government subsequently disposed of these properties by resale, it reserved to itself 50 percent of the sub-surface mineral rights.

But the Administration salesmen did NOT notify the new buyers of this reservation. Even worse, it sold these rights in large and small percentages to "outside speculators" without giving the new owner a chance to buy them. In short, the underground with its possibly valuable deposits was sold from under the farmer.

RIGHTS: In several ways this withholding of a purchase right and information has serious consequences for present owners. At any time derricks and other drilling rigs may be erected in the middle of a field he has planted to his money crops. He may find himself sitting in the middle of an oil puddle owned by somebody else.

Since subsoil rights have been sold in amounts of one-sixty-fourth, one-one-hundred-and-twenty-eighth and other fractional percentages, it might cost him more than his land is worth to clear the title, if he should want to sell.

DISCHARGED: Agriculture will now give the owner a chance to buy, if he has the cash. But it did not offer him this privilege until after Senator Williams protested against the gross inequity in the summer of 1949.

Incidentally, several officials of the St. Louis office of the Farm Credit Administration have been discharged for forming an investment pool to buy up these mineral rights. But they were not ousted until Mr. Williams questioned the propriety of their engaging in such transactions.

Senator William's charts and statistics on 92 of these transactions have considerable significance. They refer to deals in Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and Michigan. He has data indicating that they covered a far greater area.

Incidentally, all these sales of subsoil rights were "negotiated" rather than effected by competitive public bidding. Thus the "outside speculators," in many cases, seem to have been "insiders."

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

The People Who Make New York

CITIZENS ENGROSSED in the bustle of early Autumn have been looking up from their jaywalking these days and noting—on a street corner here, coming out of a doorway there—a young woman who matches the colors of September. The girl with the flaming hair, the hazelnut eyes and the look of coiled, contented sex appeal is Susan Hayward, a small, curvy tweed-encased movie star who thinks life is pretty splendid.

Susan Hayward

Hers has all the ingredients to make her think so. She is married to a young actor, Jeff Barker, who delights her with his patience and seems to her to be "loaded with savoir faire," a quality which she passionately admires. At their home in the Valley in California romp twin boys, five and a half years old, who are "geniuses, natch." And in New York are the theatres, the shops, the sable-choked fashionable restaurants, the excitement, the tempo and the people that make life gay for a fame-tagged actress from Hollywood.

Susan can survey it all from the window of a skyscraper hotel and say with a pleased smile, "I'm in a good mood today."

THIS IS NOT purely a fun-and-autographs trip for her. The redhead is shooting scenes here for the picture "I Can Get It For You Wholesale," in which she has the eminently desirable Dan Dailey for her leading man. Few New Yorkers have escaped the commotion the shooting has caused, the traffic tie-ups, the actors in their strange orange makeup, the monster gray cameras on the unaccustomed urban sidewalks. The other night the corner of 56th and Fifth was bathed in a queer, exciting, bright blue-white daylight as they took scenes outside of Bonwit Teller's. Harried policemen, waving arms in the unnatural sunshine, barked orders rerouting taxicabs, and thousands of people stood around in the pleasant night, watching.

Being the center of this kind of attention does not bore Susan. She is a movie-star-type movie star. She likes low-cut dresses and furs that match her hair and jewelry that sparkles, and she is always noticeable in a crowd. Happily married matron though she is, she does not sluff off the morale value of wolf glances as she walks through a crowded room.

"I'd like all the men in the world to be madly in love with me," says she, gleaming.

Her lure for males has been a great comfort to her in more ways than one—personally, financially, gastronomically.

FURTHER ENHANCEMENT of the Manhattan scene is being made by Yvonne DeCarlo, the petite brunette who has become synonymous in the public mind with Technicolor adventure epics involving the Arabian Nights, desert love, cooch dancers, and a West that never was.

Offscreen Yvonne is quiet as a mouse, but more beautiful, of course, and sweetly beguiling by nature. She looks exotic, with her heavy black hair and creamy white skin and depth-charge eyes, but she behaves like an anonymous young tourist in the big city.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

NANCY B., 32, is an attractive brunet.

"Dr. Crane, you recently described the wife who wore frumpy dresses and stockings with runners in them," she began.

"You said wives should be more careful to satisfy their husbands' craving for affection.

"But what about these stodgy business men who seldom pay any attention to their well dressed wives?

"They come home and don't even notice whether we have a new hat or frock.

"They make no comment about the extra work we've undergone to cook their favorite foods.

"They give us little dutiful pecks on the cheek instead of romantic kisses.

"I might as well be married to a wooden Indian for all the romance and ardor that my husband shows!

"Yet he's only 38, so he shouldn't be like that. Do you think it's because he is 30 pounds overweight?"

ROMANCE IS a product of excess energy. As such, therefore, it is especially pronounced in youth and greatly diminished in old age.

In illness and anemia, as a rule, it is almost entirely absent, even among young people.

It flares up more definitely in the spring, too, for the sudden warm weather makes it unnecessary for us to consume as many calories in maintaining the body temperature at 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit, so we can utilize that salvaged energy to generate romantic urges.

Fatigue is hostile to romance, therefore, since we are then low in energy. A tired escort doesn't pick up his cues and respond with animation.

Even ardent kisses have little effect on a sleepy individual, as many husbands can ruefully attest.

Obesity is thus an arch foe of romance, both psychologically and physiologically. For a fat man or woman is usually associated with comedy, instead of moonlight and kisses. They also grow tired more easily.

Excess weight, too, suggests greater age, as artists can well inform you. A "matronly figure" means a bulging, fatter figure, and intimates advancing age.

But love is popularly linked with youth!

Obesity also seems to make the sex organs function more sluggishly.

On the farm it is an empirical fact that too much fatness seems to prevent females from bearing young.

Conversely, sluggish sexual organs likewise seem to produce excess weight. The castrated males and females tend to grow fat and listless.

The use of tobacco likewise seems to minimize the functioning of the sex glands, for I have observed over a period of 25 years that my impotent patients are usually the heavy smokers.

The sex glands are organs of production as well as of reproduction. It has been my observation that the outstanding leaders in business and the professions are usually virile, highly sexed individuals.

Obesity, however, is a serious handicap both to efficiency and romance.

You can't feel like a sport roadster with the chassis of a truck!

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where a gambling investigation has forced a police shakeup in New York. They're really serious there, although at first it seemed to be just ordinary horseplay.

Things never looked better for our side in Korea. And some of the non-Iron Curtain United Nations are finally in it with us right up to the gilt!

Hollywood

(George Fisher, Hollywood commentator, is pinch-hitting for Edith Gwynn while she's on vacation).

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 28 — Errol Flynn's next pic will be another independent, tentatively titled "Spartacus." It'll be done in Italy, financed by Prince Raymondi Lanza, it says here. All this comes AFTER the marriage of Flynn and Pat Wymore, which has been "definitely" (?) set for Oct. 18 in the American church in Paris. At least that's the word from the set of "Bloodline," Flynn's current pic which is winding up in studios in Paris. The couple will take a honeymoon trip through the Mediterranean, on board Flynn's yacht "Zaca," between the two pictures.

Van Hefflin

They'd better do something about that ladies room at CBS — Liz Taylor and reporter Virginia MacPherson have both gotten themselves locked up in there in the past week!

Van Heflin, signed to play "Arrowsmith" on Bob Montgomery's TV theater, wants to do the Sinclair Lewis novel on the screen. It ought to be right up Van's alley — was certainly a sensation when Ronald Colman and Helen Hayes made it in the early thirties.

HOW COME QUICK magazine predicts an oscar for Jose Ferrer's performance in "Cyrano de Bergerac?" NO ONE has even seen the pic yet!

The Johnston office is frowning on a love scene in "Mother of a Champion." Robert Clarke and Sally Forrest make luf beside a swimming pool — Sally's in a strapless bathing suit, and in the close-ups NONE of the suit shows!

MacDonald Carey, back from westerns to the auto age in "Excuse My Dust," sings three songs using his own voice!

Producer David Lord, currently making a movie from his own prize-winning novel "The Avengers," will be named one of the five top novelists of the present day in a forthcoming article by a prominent critic. Others are Hemingway, Faulkner, Arthur Miller and Richard Wright!

HEY! I'M IN Look magazine Oct. 10! Page 60, hiding behind another columnist and Kirk Douglas doing the Charleston. It's at Mocambo where I emcee the Charleston contests Monday nights!

The Germans have a word for it—"Komische Salut." Means "comic salad," and describes Orson Welles stage version of "Faust" in Germany. The 19th-Century classic, as done by Welles, includes reference to atom bombs and Duke Ellington records!

Alan Young, doing a little boy sequence on his last TV show, was supposed to lose his pants in one scene. During rehearsal Alan forgot his special underwear, almost caused a catastophe. So unnerved he cut the whole scene out of the final version!

Nice and Handy... They Fear No Snakes...

★ CONVENIENT—Prominent wardrobe is that police traffic box on the northeast corner of High and Hanover streets. Yesterday afternoon a police raincoat hung prominently on the west wall. . . . Die Casters club's new building on High street, between Manatawny and York, has reached the finishing touch stage, should be ready for occupancy by Thanksgiving Day. . . . JOB—Lt. Edward J. Appel, son of Mr. Edward S. Appel, of Maple Gardens, has been assigned to the 48th Antiaircraft Artillery Automatic Weapons Battalion. The 48th AAA AW Bn is a part of the First Infantry division, a component part of the Occupation Forces in Europe. Lt. Appel served with the Army during the last war in the Asiatic-Pacific Theater of Operations in Southern Philippines. He is a graduate of The Citadel, Class of 1949.

★ VALOR — A couple of South street women showed the other day that female snake-fighting technique has come quite a way since Eve was hanging around the apple tree. Mrs. Hattie S. Loughlin, 1070 South street, first discovered a 18-inch garter snake crawling across her concrete walk. The snake disappeared. Shortly, after lunch, Mrs. Loughlin, peering from a window, spotted the dark green yellow-striped snake in her peony bed. Another yell enlisted support of Mrs. Robert S. Pennington, 1068 South street. This time Mrs. Loughlin grabbed a shovel and whacked the snake on the back. The snake curled up. Then Mrs. Pennington had her turn at bat and hit it in the head. Thoroughly dead, the snake was removed to the garbage can. "It's one reason why children shouldn't play around flowers beds," Mrs. Loughlin warmed. The snake, however, was apparently harmless.

OBSERVATIONS — Living costs dropped slightly in the past few months, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports. Food and clothing prices were down. On some cuts of meat, part of the bone is even covered. You can even get a suit with extra pockets. . . . An ardent golfer wrote a hosiery manufacturer: "Fifteen minutes after putting on a pair of your sox I made a hole in one."

★ SLIPS THAT PASS IN THE NIGHT—From the Rutland, Vt. YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

PEOPLE who worry for fear they may lack vitamins should remember that severe vitamin deficiency diseases such as scurvy seldom occur in this part of the world where a wide variety of food stuffs are readily available. When they do, they develop in people who are unable or unwilling to eat a normal diet. They may also occur in those who are unable to utilize food properly, resulting, for instance, from disturbances of the stomach and bowel.

Moderate vitamin deficiencies may develop when the body's needs for vitamins are increased, as during pregnancy or periods of rapid growth.

Under usual conditions, a well-balanced diet will supply all of the food parts necessary. If a person is eating such a diet, adding vitamins to it in the form of pills will probably not be of benefit and thus may be wasteful. However, too few people eat such a diet. When they do, there is a tendency to overeat. Hence, with curtailment of the diet, vitamin supplements become necessary.

It is unusual, too, for a lack of just a single vitamin to occur. As a general rule, a deficiency of a number of food parts develops at the same time.

Many persons may complain of tiredness, irritability, and other symptoms which could be due to a lack of vitamins. But, when these persons are carefully examined by the doctor, it is usually found that the trouble comes from some other source.

Before prescribing vitamins, the doctor carefully investigates the patient's usual diet over a period of weeks. Then he will examine the patient to determine if he has any signs of vitamin deficiency, and will decide whether or not the symptoms are due to some emotional disturbance or an actual abnormal condition of the body tissues.

When a person is under what is called nutritional stress, as may occur during pregnancy, breast feeding, and during periods of rapid growth, such foods as codliver oil, orange juice, and plenty of milk may be utilized to supply the vitamins. At such times, the doctor may want to prescribe vitamin preparations in the dose which he thinks is necessary.

If a person does develop a vitamin deficiency, he not only must be treated by administering vitamin preparations, but he must also receive a well-balanced diet. Efforts should be made to get rid of any diseased condition which may be interfering with the use of food by the body.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M, A.: Is alcohol harmful in any way to a person who has arthritis?

Answer: In most cases, it is advisable that a person with arthritis avoid the use of alcoholic beverages.

Mobile Crane Kills Construction Worker On Turnpike Project

A 35-year-old construction worker was killed yesterday afternoon when the huge mobile crane he was driving fell on him two miles west of Elverson.

Joseph P. Ruddy, Wilkes-Barre, died almost instantly, his breath crushed out of him by the weight of the crane, estimated by workmen at from 25 to 30 tons.

He was driving the crane forward in the front cab, getting it in position for new work on the bridge that will send Route 23 over the turnpike.

The crane tilted to his left, workmen said. Instead of staying in the cab, where he probably would not have suffered serious injury, he tried to climb out, but was caught by the metal edge of the crane before he could get clear.

Workmen tried vainly to free his body with boards as levers. Another crane was brought up that did free the body. Ruddy was pronounced dead by Dr. John Duttenhofer of Churchtown. Dr. O. B. Rahn, Morgantown, Berks county deputy coroner, released the body to a funeral home in Elverson.

Steps Taken for Easing Berlin Occupation Rules

BONN, Germany, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Allied High commission today took the first steps toward easing occupation controls in Berlin.

The commission announced that the three Berlin commandants have been instructed to prepare recommendations for granting greater powers to the Berlin city government.

The commission's action followed the decision of the Big Three Foreign ministers to liberalize controls in the city.

Truman-Backed

William M. Boyle (above), chairman of the Democratic national committee, was given a vote of confidence today by President Truman. At his news conference, Mr. Truman spiked all rumors that Boyle might be replaced. The President said the currently ailing Boyle would be back on the job in two weeks just as good as ever.

Soviet Peace Bid Seen Last-Ditch Effort To Save Face After Korean Red Setback

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—State department officials regard Russia's latest peace drive as a determined effort by Moscow to salvage something out of the Communist disaster in Korea.

The reverses suffered by the Reds as a result of their Korean adventure go far beyond the immediate military situation and involve the powerful reaction of the non-Communist world to the challenge posed by the Red assault last June.

As a result of that attack, the United States, the countries of Western Europe and many Far Eastern and Middle Eastern nations tightened their unity to a degree never before reached. In the North Atlantic area particularly, the reaction to the Korean struggle has been agreement to create an unprecedented international army to defend western Europe.

The current aim of the Russians is regarded by officials here as not primarily to bring peace to Korea but rather to (1) slow down the Western rearmament effort and (2) divide the non-Communist countries whose unity is essential to a successful stand against Soviet expansion.

The belief here is that the Russians had already made up their minds about the way things were going in Korea and came to the United Nations meeting in New York with their strategy well laid out.

SOVIET FOREIGN Minister Andrei Vishinsky's initial speech was less violent than Russian outbursts on similar occasions in the past. Jacob Malik, Russia's regular delegate to the U. N., followed up with a series of questions and answers Monday which inked in Moscow's strategy a little more clearly. He said that Russia favored peace discussions with the United States.

Tied into this have been rumors of so-called peace offers by the Korean Communists on terms which in Washington's opinion might have been valid before the Communist collapse started but which now offer nothing to the winning United Nations coalition.

State department officials say that they are meeting the newest Red peace offensive in the Voice of America broadcasts to other countries by pointing out that the Russians have gone through this same kind of performance before without making any really serious effort to solve the long list of critical East-West problems.

The State department broadcasters have recalled Secretary Acheson's speech last Winter at Berkeley, Calif., in which he outlined specific actions the Russians could take if they really want peace.

While the American government is trying to avoid building up false hopes over the world, at the same time it must and is taking care not to leave any impression that the United States opposes peace. This is especially important in Asia where countries such as India do not see the issue between Russia and the West as Western nations see it.

Optimist Club Activates 3 Major Committees

Three major committees of the Optimist club were activated for the 1950-51 season last night at a meeting in the Cloverleaf restaurant.

Named to serve as chairman were William Miller, membership committee; Elwood Angstadt, boy's work committee, and LeRoy Keyser, program committee. Each member of the club was assigned to one of the committees.

All three groups plan to meet before the next regular meeting of the club.

Two guests, Willard N. Sears, son of Borough Manager Dow I. Sears, and Charles Fegely, YMCA boy's work secretary, attended the session along with 19 members of the club. Roland T. Brauch, president, was in charge.

French Unit to Leave For Korea Next Month

PARIS, Sept. 28 (AP)—A French battalion will leave some time next month for service under the United Nations flag in Korea.

A spokesman for the Defense ministry said the battalion is in process of formation and its sailing date could not yet be fixed.

Other sources said the force, authorized by a French government decision about a month ago, is completing training in Brittany.

Trailer Fire Destroys Couple's Possessions

A Birdsboro RD 2 couple, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reeser, lost household furnishings and clothing valued at $1500 last night when a loaded trailer they were towing behind their car overturned on the Penn street bridge, West Reading, and burned.

The Reesers were moving their belongings to Madison, Ohio, where they recently obtained a new home. As they were crossing the bridge, the trailer, rented from an Ohio agency, overturned.

Flames of undetermined origin swept through the vehicle destroying a new refrigerator, washing machine, and other household items. The loss was not insured, Reeser said later.

Members of the West Reading fire department extinguished the blaze which at one time sent flames shooting 50 feet into the air. Before the firemen arrived, Reeser was able to save only an electric motor and a steel box filled with tools.

FIRE VICTIM —

ation. McDonald works at Spicer Manufacturing company's plant.

Capt. Cox said the association had told him to buy whatever was needed now.

Their temporary home has two bedrooms, parlor and kitchen, and has oil heat.

McDonald said, "I don't know how I can ever thank all the friends, and all the people that don't know me at all. They were wonderful."

THE $150 WAS collected by members of the newly-formed Upper Frederick township civil defense unit, headed by George E. Gallie, of Perkiomenville.

Gallie said the group covered 75 percent of the township, and would visit the other residents by tomorrow.

"The people weren't concerned with whether or not they knew him," he said last night. "They were all willing to help."

Others who helped in the door-to-door campaign were Mrs. Betty Barr, Francis Snyder, Donald Gallie, Gottfried Franke, all of Perkiomenville, and Pauline and Willard Kline, of Obelisk.

The fire was believed to have been started by a defective, oil-burning space heater. Damage was estimated at $12,000. Approximately $8500 was covered by insurance.

The family lost furniture, clothing, refrigerators, household equipment and nearly all their personal possessions.

KOREAN WAR —

withdrawal, leaving hardly even a scrap of paper behind.

Residents of the shattered old city of 1,000,000 emerged from their hiding places and poked in the rubble of their now peaceful old capital. They were looking for odds and ends with which to start life anew.

There were small, sporadic flashes of action elsewhere in South Korea as stubborn North Korean Reds, some trapped and some fleeing, fought briefly but ineffectually.

One such action took place northwest of Seoul. A Red battalion tackled a company of the U. S. 187th Airborne Regimental Combat team in the village of Kimpo on the edge of Kimpo airfield. After a short sharp close-up fight, the Reds withdrew to the northwest.

Reds lodged in caves and on two hills a score of miles south of Seoul, between Suwon and Osan, were cleared out by two battalions of the Seventh division and Marine warplanes.

United Nations forces conducting a huge mop-up operation in the south recaptured Taejon, highway and rail hub 90 miles south of Seoul; Namwon, 42 miles northwest of Chinju and Hadong, 20 miles southeast of Chinju.

TRAFFIC CONTROL —

street a veritable obstacle course for drivers, Strange said that many stop signs in the borough are erected after groups of residents put pressure on their local councilman to correct what appear to be dangerous intersections.

"At the last three council meetings," he pointed out, "we've turned down many requests for signs because we're waiting for the survey results."

When the results are received, the police and highway committees will examine the report and make recommendations based on it. State highway officials will be called in to consult on any proposal concerning State road.

TRAFFIC CONTROL experts of the American Automobile association probably will be invited to make recommendations, also, Strange said.

The committee chairman reviewed prior proposals made for traffic control, including a provision for one-way flow north on Charlotte to Beech street.

He said also that he favored concreting King street for use as an effective by-pass of the business district.

Other interested persons likewise are waiting the results of the State-run traffic investigation.

O. C. BEACRAFT, manager of the Pottstown Automobile club, said the borough can't do much until it finds where traffic starts, where it is going and where it ends.

"The biggest problem, as I see it," Beacraft asserted, "is speed. I don't know how to stop it except possibly with Stop signs or lights, or by arresting every speeder.

"We've got 3000 kids in town, crossing streets, and we've got to look at the human side of the story.

A driver may sit in his car and not see the importance of human life.

"I think an intelligent approach can be made to the problem on the basis of the survey."

LAUSCHE ASKS MODERATION

STEUBENVILLE, O., Sept. 28 (AP) —Gov. Frank J. Lausche tonight called for moderation during the political campaign after State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson denounced Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) a few minutes earlier.

them consideration, but I didn't say I would adopt any."

He also asserted that the present plan would remain in effect until one came along that he, as head of the police department, considered better.

IT ALSO WAS learned yesterday that some police committee members favored inviting the three sergeants to the Oct. 6 committee meeting, to tell of their experiences under the new system and possibly to make recommendations.

Strange said yesterday, "It's entirely up to the burgess whether he wants to invite the sergeants to come to the meeting."

Asked about this, Griffith affirmed that he did indeed have the authority to invite sergeants to the meeting, but he gave the impression that he would not do so.

He said agreeably, "Anyone at all is welcome to come to the police committee meetings. If I were a policeman, though, I don't think I'd care to attend."

The head of the police department emphasized that if members of the force have criticisms, complaints or suggestions, they should bring them to him first.

Measure Approved To Construct 200 Units at Penn Village

A general resolution approving the erection of 200 additional units at Penn Village was passed by the Montgomery County Housing authority yesterday afternoon.

Under the resolution, the executive director of the authority, Edmund J. Koser, is empowered to enter into contracts with the Public Housing authority for financial assistance to begin the project.

Financial assistance up to $70,000, of which $40,000 may be spent for architect's fees and plans and specifications, may be sought from the PHA. An additional loan for the construction of the buildings will be requested later.

Bids for the construction of the additional units are expected to be advertised early in December. Contracts for the work probably will be awarded before the end of the year, it was reported.

Koser reported to the authority the painting of the Hilldale units is "progressing satisfactorily." The walls and woodwork of the Hilldale buildings are being painted under a contract awarded recently.

Richard F. Smale, chairman of the authority, presided at the monthly meeting. All members attended with the exception of Felix Perry, vice chairman, who is ill.

Crash Follows Attempt To Enter Local Driveway

An attempted turn into the Howard Johnson restaurant driveway ended in a collision between two cars at High and Beech streets last night.

The turning car was driven by Mrs. Mary A. Guerrisi, Lebanon, who told police she was traveling west on High street. As she turned into the driveway, she went on to say, the right rear fender of her car was struck by a car driven by Michael Dolenti, Royersford RD 1.

Dolenti said he was traveling in an easterly direction when Mrs. Guerrisi made a left hand turn in front of him. He struck her car with his right front fender, he added.

Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy reported the right rear fender and hub cap of Mrs. Guerrisi's car and the front bumper and right front fender of Dolenti's car were damaged.

Game Breeding Supports Self, Rotary Club Told

The State's wildlife propagation program is self-supporting, Vernon T. Warfel, superintendent of the Eastern Game farm, Schwenkville, told a regular meeting of the Rotary club last night.

Fees from hunting licenses pay for the entire program, explained Warfel, who is also immediate past president of the Central Perkiomen Rotary club.

Warfel told the 60 members present in the Elks' home that hunting and fishing constituted a billion dollar business in the nation—what with manufacture of special clothing, tackle, equipment and expendable supplies.

In this State, 850,000 three-dollar hunting licenses and more than 500,000 two-dollar fishing licenses are sold annually, he said.

'Christ's Faith in Us' Discussed by Meck At Trinity Mission

The Rev. Dr. Allan S. Meck, president of the Lancaster Reformed theological seminary, continued his four-sermon series last night at Trinity Reformed church by explaining "Christ's Incredible Faith in Us."

His text, from John 15:16, was "Ye have not chosen Me, but I have chosen you and ordained you that you might bring forth fruit and that your fruit might remain."

Not only has Christ chosen us, said Dr. Meck, but we have chosen him also, "drawn by his sublime spirit."

For 2000 years, he said, Christ has been chosing "us poor humble sinners because he loves and trusts us."

"The spark of divinity is within us. Christ came to fan that spark," said the speaker, also a teacher of worship and preaching at the seminary.

Dr. Meck will conclude his series tonight at 7:30 o'clock with a sermon, "A Passion for Souls." His addresses have been the nucleus of a "preaching mission" at the church which began Sunday.

The mission will end Sunday with three communion services to mark World Communion Sunday.

Air Fields North of 38th Are Built by Red Koreans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Air Force reported today that the North Koreans are continuing to build air fields north of the 38th parallel despite the disintegration of their army in South Korea.

A spokesman said U. S. pilots have noted particularly that construction work is going on at Wonsan, one of the principal North Korean air fields. Wonsan is on the 39th parallel on the East coast.

Despite the new construction work, United Nations pilots say no planes are visible near the Wonsan field.

VICTORY SEEN NO STOPPAGE TO DEFENSE PLANS

Truman Says Success In Korea Will Bring No Expansion Slowdown

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—President Truman said there will be no letup in Administration defense plans in the event of expected victory in Korea.

The President would not say, at a news conference, whether Gen. Douglas MacArthur will pursue the North Koreans beyond the 38th parallel. But he did say that the instructions to MacArthur, the supreme United Nations commander, are broad.

It had been reported previously that MacArthur has been given the power to send troops across the dividing line between North and South Korea if that action is necessary to destroy the Communist army.

Mr. Truman said he was very happy over the improved situation in Korea. He added that he hoped that the peace for which he said he has long sought eventually will be realized.

He said that Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, was exactly correct when he said in a talk yesterday that there cannot be any letup in defense preparations after the Korean war is over.

AT THE SAME time, Mr. Truman said he expected opposition to continued expansion of the defense program once peace comes to Korea.

He predicted the opposition would come from those who have fought against defense preparations in the past, even—as he said—in the last session of Congress, but he did not name them.

Mr. Truman said he had no information whatsoever on a reported peace feeler attributed in a roundabout way to the North Koreans.

In response to another question, the President said Gen. Dwight Eisenhower is at his beck and call in the event he should be needed in any emergency.

He said the former Army chief of staff, now president of Columbia university, is always available should his services be needed by the country.

Mother Denies Guilt In Ice-Box Killing of Nine-Year-Old Son

TAMPA, Fla., Sept. 28 (AP)—A red-haired mother proclaiming her innocence today was charged with killing her young son and stuffing him inside a tavern refrigerator.

Nine-year-old Bobby Tipp was found yesterday inside an unused family size refrigerator at the beer tavern operated by his mother, Mrs. Lois M. Tipp.

Bobby had been shot twice in the head, gagged, then wrapped tightly in a bed sheet. Strong odors from the ice box led to his discovery.

Mrs. Tipp, 39, after hours of questioning and three sessions with a lie detector, said she knew nothing about how her boy was killed. Police charged her with murder.

SHE REPEATED over and over her own version that Bobby must have surprised a burglar who stole $2000 of her money.

Chief Criminal Deputy Ernest Culbreath reported three persons are being held as material witnesses. He identified them and said their connections with the case were these:

Frank Castrillon—a "boy friend" of Mrs. Tipp. He admitted being with her Monday night.

Mrs. Mae Everest, a former neighbor who Monday night went to Mrs. Tipp's tavern and detected a strong smell.

Mrs. Alvie Thomas—a neighbor who reported a strong odor came from the tavern early in the week.

U. S. Tenders Plan to U. N. For Unity, Freedom in Korea

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—A six-point United States program for creating a free and united Korea under the guidance of the whole United Nations was outlined by American sources at the U.N. today. The Americans disclaimed any wish for military bases in Korea and called for urgent steps to rehabilitate the war-torn land.

The Americans said any talk of surrender, capitulation or armistice would be a military matter and they did not know what would be done about it. It was indicated, however, that the unified command, under Gen. Douglas MacArthur, had the authority to make a decision on ending the fighting—if and when the North Koreans decide they are ready to stop.

Spurred by the rapid advance of the United Nations forces in Korea, key officials in the U. N. assembly began a move to have the powerful political committee of the assembly, made up of all members, sit tomorrow as long as is necessary to approve a resolution authorizing the U. N. forces to go beyond the 38th parallel.

The American program follows in brief:

1. Korea should be free and united. This would do away with the 38th parallel boundary between Communist North Korea and U. N.-backed South Korea.
2. The method of unification can best be determined by a strong United Nations commission in Korea with between seven and fourteen members. This commission should have more authority than the present seven-member commission.

3. Korean people to be consulted by commission should be chosen in free elections by secret ballot on the basis of universal suffrage. The American plan recognizes the elections held last May as valid.
4. Strong emphasis on a program of rehabilitation and reconstruction. Secretary of State Acheson suggested that Korea be a pilot project in rehabilitation under U. N. watch-care.
5. Settlement of the Korean problem must not be dominated by any one nation, but must be accomplished by the United Nations in co-operation with the Korean people.

A Soldier Weeps in Korea

An American infantryman, his buddy killed in action, weeps on shoulder of another soldier somewhere in Korea. Meanwhile, a corpsman goes about the business of filling out casualty tags.

Marine Reserves to Stay On Active Duty After War

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 28 (AP)—Gen. Clifton B. Cates, Marine corps commandant, said today the Marine corps plans to keep its reserves in uniform after the Korean war is settled.

The Marine corps leader stopped here en route to Korea.

He told a news conference:

"There is no plan whatsoever for releasing reserves. International circumstances do not warrant releasing anyone."

General Cates said the Marine corps hopes to reach its authorized strength of 160,000 men—enough for two fighting divisions and 18 air squadrons—by the end of 1950 no matter what happens in Korea. It has a total of 120,000 men now, he said.

Whether the Marines can keep on expanding after that is up to Congress, he said.

"Korea has shown us the necessity of having ready forces available to fight anywhere," he said.

THE GENERAL said the Marines now in Korea had to be assembled "from the four corners of the earth." Some were taken from security forces at naval bases, others came from training at Camp Pendleton, Calif., and others were brought all the way from the Mediterranean.

He said some reserves, who were veterans of the second World War had to be sent out to join the division without refresher training.

The Fleet Marine force numbered about 25,000 on June 26, the day after the Red Koreans crossed the 38th aparallel in their invasion of South Korea.

"There are many thousand more than that in Korea now," General Cates said.

SINCE JUNE 26 the total Marine strength has built up from 63,000 to 120,000 he said.

"The thing that is remarkable is the way that division (First Marine) was assembled," Cates continued. "It was thrown together and it made a damned good team."

"I attribute most of it to just good basic training and to the close support from our planes," he said.

General Cates said the Air Force, the Army, the Navy and the Marines have all done more than their share in helping win the war.

"This Korean thing has shown the value of teamwork," he commented.

The Korean war could still develop into "a real cat and dog fight" if the North Koreans break up into small units and begin guerrilla fighting, Cates said.

Truman Keeps Mum On Slap at Byrnes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Saying the book speaks for itself, President Truman today brushed off questions about a new biography which quotes him as saying James F. Byrnes "failed miserably" as secretary of State.

The book, "The Man of Independence" by Jonathan Daniels, created something of a sensation when it was published last Tuesday.

Reporters went to Mr. Truman's news conference primed with questions about the book.

When they put them, Mr. Truman replied over and over again, no comment.

Then, he told reporters he did not intend to be drawn into any discussion of the book.

Did he read copy on any phases of it? He was asked.

"No comment," the President replied.

300,000 FACE DRAFT CALL IN NEXT 6 MONTHS

Army Reveals Increase Of 180,000 Over Past Selective Service Quotas

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Army today announced plans to draft 300,000 men in the next six months.

This is in addition to 50,000 summoned in September which was the first month of the draft program touched off by the Korean outbreak and the vast defense undertaking.

Previously, the Army had called on Selective Service to supply 120,000 men in October and November.

Thus the 300,000 to be inducted in the next six months represents an increase of 180,000 over the pending draft calls already announced.

It raises the Army's total draft program to 350,000.

On Capitol Hill, Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House armed services committee reported that the Army in the next six months will draft 1400 dentists and 2500 doctors, and call up 700 doctors in the reserve.

Vinson made the figures public after a closed session of the committee at which Army officials appeared, headed by Maj. Gen. Clovis Byers, deputy chief of staff.

VINSON CALLED his group together to consider removing what he called "inequalities" from the draft law, and to study the Army's manpower problems in general.

The chairman in a prepared statement, expressed concern about draft regulations which he said permit married men without military service to stay home while married veterans are called to active duty because they are National Guardsmen or reserves.

Byers, talking to reporters, expressed belief the Army's draft needs, aside from doctors and dentists, could be obtained from the age groups now subject to be called under the present law—19 through 25.

Hopes Lift for Dean

WITH U. S. FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION, Korea, Sept. 28 (AP)—A few random words overheard by three South Korean captives in a Red prison stockade offered a thin ray of hope tonight that Maj. Gen. William F. Dean might still be alive.

The 50-year-old commander of the U. S. 24th Infantry division has been missing since July 21, a few hours after the fall of Taejon to North Korean Communists. His aide last saw him on that day in the mountains near Taejon, after retiring from the flaming city.

Taejon is now in the hands of the 24th division again.

Three South Koreans found at Chongju, 22 miles north of Taejon, by First cavalry troops told U. S. Counter-Intelligence corps (CIC) officers they heard their Communist captors planning to move Dean from Chongju to Seoul, 70 miles away.

The South Koreans said they escaped just before the Reds dynamited the Chongju stockade, killing 187 Republic of Korea (ROK) soldiers. Six hundred other South Koreans were shot and 18 American prisoners were killed and burned just before the Reds abandoned Chongju, the three escaped captives reported.

Chongju was retaken by the Americans Tuesday. Taejon fell today.

Two wounded Americans told the CIC that some 40 GIs were tied up and shot at Taejon recently. The wounded pair escaped by playing dead.

Dean was known to his men for his bravery and resourcefulness. During World War II he was decorated three times, for both skill and heroism. His staff officers in the 24th have never lost hope that he will be rescued.

Sinatras Bid Bye-Bye Legally; Nancy Awarded Big Settlement

★ ★ ★ ★

Gets Freedom . . .

FRANKIE-BOY

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Sept. 28 (AP)—Frankie Sinatra, one-time hero of squealing bobby-soxers, was legally separated today from his wife of 11 years and a healthy chunk of his huge income.

Mrs. Nancy Sinatra, 30, the boyhood sweetheart of the crooner, won a separate maintenance decree by default in Superior court.

The hearing was routine as the property settlement was agreed upon six days ago, as was Sinatra's decision not to contest the suit.

The Sinatras, wed 11 years, have been separated since Feb. 1. It was then that the 33-year-old Sinatra set gossip tongues wagging with an international pursuit of actress Ava Gardner. Sinatra was not in court today. He and Miss Gardner attended the Louis-Charles heavyweight fight in New York last night.

There was no word of this in today's hearing in which Mrs. Sinatra also was awarded custody of their three children.

SHE WEPT as she told how her husband often left her at home weekends while he traveled to their desert place at Palm Springs.

"Frequently," she sobbed, "he stayed away from home for days at a time."

Her sister, Miss Julie Barbato, testified that Frank embarrassed his wife by "not socializing with guests, often leaving the room to sulk."

After the court order was entered, the sisters rushed from the courtroom after the hearing with Julie whispering to Mrs. Sinatra: "That wasn't so bad, was it?"

But Nancy said: "I don't feel like smiling for the photographers."

Mrs. Sinatra has been living on $2750 a month support from Sinatra. Under the settlement, she will receive:

One-third of his gross income up to $150,000 annually. After that, her share drops to approximately ten percent on a scale based on income tax tables. Her attorney, Greg Bautzer, estimated the crooner's income this year will approximate $1,000,000.

McCarthy Charges Gov't Buried Data on False Non-Red Oaths

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) charged today that the Truman administration has ignored proof that "false" non-Communist affidavits were made by a number of officers of the Independent United Electrical Workers union (UE).

McCarthy said the FBI turned over detailed evidence in the case to the Justice department but that Peyton Ford, deputy attorney general, "turned a deaf ear and buried the information in its files" under Administration direction.

The senator said the purpose was to curry "left wing votes."

The Justice department had no comment. Ford was reported out of town.

The Wisconsin Republican previously has accused the Democratic administration of helping "whitewash" the State department which he said was Red-infested.

The union was expelled last November from the CIO on the grounds it was under Communist domination. McCarthy said the members ought to quit and join the CIO's new International Electrical Workers union (IUF).

The senator, who made his charges in an appendix edition of the Congressional Record appearing today, noted that the UE is the recognized bargaining agent for some General Electric company plants doing defense work.

Lovett Is Appointed Top Defense Aide

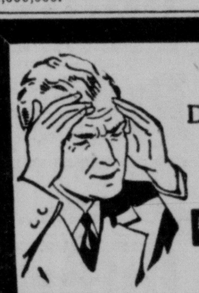

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—President Truman today named Robert A. Lovett, diplomat, airman and Wall street banker, as deputy secretary of Defense.

He succeeds Stephen T. Early who is leaving the No. 2 Defense post Saturday to return to private business.

Although best known in postwar years as a former undersecretary of State, Lovett played a leading role in the military setup during World War II.

As assistant secretary of War for Air, Lovett took over the task of raising the production of heavy bombers from three or four a month at the outset of the war to 500, then 775 and finally 1000.

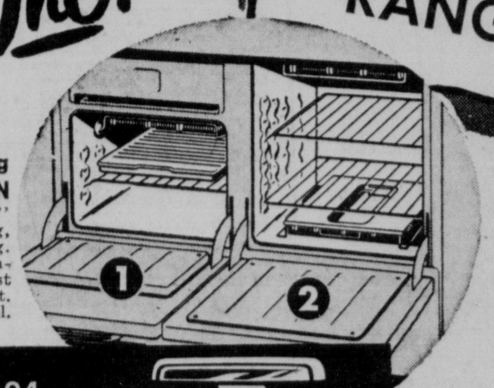

He is a close friend of the new secretary of Defense, Gen. George C. Marshall, having served as undersecretary when Marshall was secretary of State. He held that post from July, 1947, to January, 1949.

Leo Schofield Found Dead in His Home By Two Neighbors

Neighbors investigating yesterday at 11:45 o'clock, found the body of Leo L. Schofield, 53, seated by a window in an easy chair in the front living room of his home, 339 Summer street, Royersford.

Fully dressed, wearing eye glasses and with his arms dropped by his side, indications were the man had been stricken while reading. It was thought he had died probably Sunday or Monday night, as lights were still burning in the room.

He was last seen the past Sunday morning by Norman Hunsicker, who resides next door. Schofield had a cardiac condition for sometime.

Montgomery County Coroner W. J. Rushong gave permission to remove the body, after he was notified by Police Chief Bryson Turner.

MRS. HUNSICKER AND Mrs. Virgil Enswiler, 332 Summer street, investigated yesterday, following the continued absence of the man, whom they had formerly seen around almost daily.

Entering the unlocked front door, they found him, and immediately notified authorities.

Mr. Schofield had been living alone in his home for sometime. His wife, Clara (Tyson) Schofield, died March 17, 1949. His two sons and only daughter live away.

A sister, Mrs. Edna Sload, 326 Church street, Royersford, a registered nurse and first family member to arrive, found everything in order. Covers of his bed were turned back, indicating he might have gone upstairs to retire, but returned downstairs to read, which often was his custom.

BORN IN ROYERSFORD, son of Mrs. Edith H. Schofield and the late Thomas W. Schofield, he lived here all his life, except when he served in the Marine corps during World War I. He enlisted Aug. 1, 1918, trained at Parris Island, S. C., and Quantico, Va. He later was assigned to the Overseas depot, and then to the Machine Gun school Jan. 25, 1919.

For some years he was a State liquor store clerk and later became manager of the Royersford store. During World War II he served as a guard at the Jacobs plant, Pottstown, after which he was employed at Royersford Needleworks. He was a member of Royersford First Evangelical and Reformed church.

Surviving are two sons, W. Lane Schofield, a chemist at Bristol, and Dr. Richard Alan Schofield, at Birmingham, Ala.; one daughter, Beverly, wife of Byrd Whitney, school teacher in Bensalem township and living with her brother, Lane, at Bristol.

His aged mother lives with Mrs. Sload at 326 Church street, Royersford. Surviving also are the following brothers and sisters:

Clare, wife of Admiral Edwin D. Foster of the U. S. Navy, Washington, D. C.; Norman L. Schofield, Woodbine, N. J.; Mrs. Sload, 326 Church street; Jessie, wife of Ira G. Newlin, Crestwood, N. Y.; Royle L. Schofield, Mont Clare, and Dr. Alan L. Schofield, Lowell, Mass.

Services will be conducted in a funeral home at 367 Walnut street, Royersford, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in Fernwood cemetery.

PTA Group Plans For Fashion Frolic

Chairman of the various committees arranging for Royersford PTA's fashion frolic, to be held Oct. 12, met at the home of Mrs. Fred O. Heller, PTA president, 801 Church street, to further plans for the affair.

Alos present were Jack Hoffman and Mrs. Shirley Fitelson, representing the New York store, Pottstown, and Mrs. Bette Charles, Royersford.

Committee chairmen attending were Mrs. Fred Schad, general chairman; Mrs. Benjamin Fry, Mrs. Abram Hunsicker, Mrs. Luther Schad, Mrs. Ralph Quigg, Mrs. Thomas Evans, Mrs. Anna Skeen and Mrs. Heller.

The following models also were present: Freda Katz, Kay Hunsicker, Jean Miller, Betty Gerges, Lorraine Lightcap, Gail Stepp, Lenora Remington, Lydia Reid and Elizabeth Giaquinta.

Seasonal Fruit Makes Grand Desserts; This Month's Apples Perform Double Duty

By GRANNY HIGGINS

Now is the "apple a day" time of year and with new Fall crops in abundance there will be bushels of the delectable fruit at the market. Farm hands who have sprayed, trimmed and pampered the growing apple tree all year around are now busily engaged in harvesting the ripened fruit, packing and shipping it to your grocer.

You can bet grandma's best pie that you'll be turning to the apple reservoir quite frequently in the next few weeks, for dessert fillers. And in the event that you become stymied for a recipe here are two thoughts for you.

Apple Tapioca

3 cooking apples
3 cups of water
Juice of ½ lemon
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup quick-cooking tapioca
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Start your oven at 375F or moderate; grease a medium baking dish. Peel and slice apples in thin slices. Put in baking dish along with water and lemon juice. Bake until apples are almost tender when tested with a fork (baking time depends on baking quality of apples).

While apples are baking, mix up sugar, salt, cinnamon, tapioca, butter or margarine. Stir this into the cooked apple slices and bake about 20 minutes longer, or until apples are very tender and the tapioca mixture thickens. Serves 4 to 6.

Spicy Baked Apples

6 baking apples
1½ cups mincemeat
1/3 cup brown sugar
¾ cup white wine
2 tablespoons sugar

Start your oven at 350F or moderate. Wash and core apples; peel off about ¼ of the peeling and set apples in a shallow baking dish.

Fill each apple with 2 tablespoons of mincemeat. Sprinkle tops with brown sugar, spoon about half the wine over apples and bake 40 minutes or until apples are tender when tested with a fork.

Transfer hot apples to a hot serving plate. Stir remaining mincemeat and wine in the apple syrup and cook 10 minutes longer. Pour syrup over apples, sprinkle with granulated sugar and serve to 6.

Antrim Appointed VFW Group Head

Earl F. Antrim, former commander of Pottstown Post 780, Veterans of Foreign Wars, last night was appointed chairman of a VFW local committee to co-operate with the American Red Cross in obtaining blood for wounded servicemen in Korea.

Antrim's appointment was made at a meeting of the post with 35 members present.

In another move, directly concerned with the National Defense program, the post voted to continue at its expense the memberships of all members in good standing who return to the Armed forces.

The organization also approved a resolution that Borough council and the burgess recommend to Federal Housing Expeditor Tighe Wood that housing controls be extended.

Plans for a Hallowe'en party for children of post members were introduced.

John M. Amwake, post commander in charge of the session and Antrim reported on the VFW national convention at Chicago, Aug. 27 to Sept. 1.

YOUTH KILLED —

ing house, one and a half miles away, on the Landis Store-Fredericksville road.

HE WAS COMING down a hill near the home of William Gambler and had just waved to Gambler, whom he knew, when he failed to make the sharp right-hand turn at the bottom of the hill.

Scattering apples over the road and into the ditch, the truck plunged into the gulley left of the road.

State Troopers John Hahn and James Erisman, of West Reading barracks, said skid marks showed that Hilbert manhandled the truck out of the ditch, across the road and into the opposite ditch.

It was while he was fighting to get out of that shoulder that the truck turned over, throwing the youth face-down onto the road. The truck halted upside-down straddling the road.

Hilbert's wrist watch stopped at 4:25 o'clock.

In addition to chest injuries, the youth suffered a broken left arm, a broken left hip and cuts and brush burns of the face.

Earl H. Reichert, Landis Store, deputy Berks county coroner for District township, released the body to a funeral home at 124 West Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown.

DAMAGE TO THE radiator, hood and dash board of the truck will amount to about $200, Treichler estimated.

Young Hilbert, who lived with his parents, Edwin M. and Ellen W. (Herb) Hilbert, on their farm in Barto RD 1, near Barto, was a neighbor of Treichler.

Usually, the youth worked on his father's place. But in late Summer and early Fall, he helped in the orchards.

He was born in New Berlinville and lived, with his family, at Hill Church for a time before moving to their present address. He had attended Barto grade school and was a member of St. Joseph's Hill Lutheran church and the church's Sunday school.

Surviving, in addition to his parents, are five brothers and sisters, Robert, Mae, Eva, Ernest and Russell, all at home; a step-sister, Myrtle, wife of Paul Reppert, Shamrock, Berks county; a step-brother, Claude Moser, at home and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Leanda Hilbert, Fredericksville.

Funeral arrangements, in charge of a funeral director at 124 West Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown, will be made today.

HIT-RUN TERM —

ahead, he said, and when he had them working feebly, he drove southward looking for her.

He caught up with her near Grandy's Service station, north of Titlow's Corner, he said, but she refused to get into the car again. He turned around in the service station and started back toward Pottstown. He heard a bump, found he had hit Mrs. Newman. Then he fled the scene.

HER BODY WAS hit accidentally later by cars driven by R. Wallace Ed, near Pughtown, and Norwood Mintzer, Pottstown RD 2.

A horrified spectator of the second and third accidents was Harry Kulcycki, Pughtown, who had seen Mrs. Newman's body lying on the road and had turned his car around to get medical aid when the Ed and Mintzer cars approached.

Swavely was apprehended four days after the accident by the investigation of Guldin and Coll, assisted by Pottstown Motor Patrolman Thomas A. Lawler and Patrolman Joseph Thees.

Swavely was represented by Attorney Phillip J. Reilly, West Chester.

Mixing Plant Employe Sustains Head Injuries

Leo A. O'Dell, 28, of the Bahr arcade, was knocked unconscious by a plank while he was working at the John T. Dyer Quarry company's ready-mix concrete plant, Queen and Bailey streets, yesterday afternoon.

O'Dell was taken to Pottstown hospital in a Good Will ambulance by William Christman. He had recovered consciousness within a few seconds.

Examinations, including an X-ray, showed no more than a superficial bump on the top of his head.

Water Street Man Denied Parole for Burglaries

WEST CHESTER, Sept. 28—John Chabock, 25, of 609 Water street, who admitted burglarizing Wisler's cup, South Pottstown, three times the past Winter, had his bid for parole refused yesterday in Chester County court.

Chabock has served eight months of a one-year prison sentence.

He was arrested the past Jan. 13, the same day that police arrested Andrew Toth, 37, Philadelphia, and Louis Castrinoes, 36, of 641 Water street, for a series of burglaries in and near Pottstown.

Chabock admitted entering Wisler's twice by himself and once with Castrinoes, who now is serving a long prison term with Toth for the other burglaries.

Community Grange Elects A. J. Landis

Arthur J. Landis, Fagleysville, who works in Collegeville for a national oil company, Wednesday night was elected to his second consecutive term as master of Community grange, New Hanover.

With him were elected other officers for the coming year. They will be installed at a meeting Nov. 22.

Named were:

Levan Steltz, overseer; Dorothy Geisler, lecturer; Willis Hettrick, steward; William Steltz, assistant steward; Mrs. Levan Steltz, chaplain; George Nester, gatekeeper; Ralph Geisler, financial secretary; Helen Mest, recording secretary.

Also, John Moyer, treasurer; Janet Hettrick, lady assistant steward; Florence Landis, Ceres; Helen Nester, Pomona; Edna Hartline, Flora; the Rev. Edgar Cooper, executive committee member; Roger Moyer, financial committee member, and Nora Romig, pianist.

The grange will hold a farm products show Nov. 22. Thirty-three members attended the session.

No New Clues Reported In Week's Burglaries

No new clues were reported yesterday by borough police in the week's three burglaries.

They were: The $300 theft from a Pottstown hospital locker room on Monday; the burglary attempt over the weekend at W. S. Antrim and Son glass store, 62 High street, discovered Monday, and the $395 burglary of jewels from a car parked on North Evans street Wednesday.

Boy Severely Cuts Arm In Fall on Piece of Tin

James Clements, 7, of 23 West Tenth street, suffered a severe laceration of the upper right arm last night when he fell on a piece of tin.

He was taken to Pottstown hospital dispensary where four sutures were used to close the wound.

CAMPAIGN TALK —

street corner talks to the voters.

"We think you, the people, should have the opportunity of meeting your candidates, and they should meet you," Myers declared.

Myers said he enjoyed coming into Republican strongholds, like Montgomery county, "right into the stronghold of the enemy." He said he would like to see the Republican candidates also come here, but added, "They're just afraid to discuss the issues."

SENATOR MYERS charged that the Republicans gave little assistance in passing Social Security, housing, minimum wage or other social legislation, and that although they accepted such measures now, they originally condemned some of them as Socialistic or Communistic.

He also asserted that the Republicans had planned to capitalize on early American reverses in South Korea. Since the battle is going against the North Koreans, Myers said, "How will they make the war an issue now?"

He concluded by emphasizing, "I hope you will vote Democratic, straight Democratic, but if you are inclined otherwise, I still urge you to come out on Nov. 7. I'll take my chances on the people, if they all vote. Read the record, and if you do, I'm sure you'll vote straight Democratic on Nov. 7."

Myers was introduced by Raymond K. Mensch, Montgomery county commissioner. He was preceded at the microphone by Roy I. Carson, judge of the Washington county Court of Common Pleas, a candidate for the State Superior court.

Several other candidates were introduced, including Pottstown's Leon C. MacMullen, running for Congress, and J. Alfred Marquet, for Assemblyman. The only woman candidate, Mrs. Lois Forer, of Melrose park, seeking the State Senate seat, also was presented to the crowd.

Myers' caravan tour began yesterday morning in Pennsburg, where 400 persons turned out, campaign leaders said. After his talk here, Myers, his fellow-candidates and campaign advisers, Pottstown labor leaders, borough officials and leaders of the local Democratic party organization, had lunch at the Shuler House.

From here, the Myers caravan went to Collegeville, Conshohocken, Bridgeport and Norristown. The day's activities were ended with a dinner in Bungalow Inn, on Route 422, near Norristown.

The tab was $50 a plate.

The House of Representatives will ring once more with the old familiar cry, "Where are you going to get the money." For 18 long years Rep. Robert F. Rich (R-Pa) has droned out his plea against heavy government spending. But when Rich decided not to seek a tenth term, friend and foe alike were faced with the gloomy thought that no more would the time-honored cry ring through the legislative chamber. Rich jumped into the breech and dramatically willed the appeal to Rep. Leon Gavin, a fellow Pennsylvanian.

Martha Raye who frolics delightfully on stage and screen, extended her uninhibited endeavors too far in staid Boston. Seems like Martha, she of the cavernous oral cavity, has a little trouble with the varying widths of sidewalks. She spent a five-hour period as guest of the house of detention after being charged with drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. Defending her little jaunt onto the sidewalk, Miss Raye said they grow 'em bigger where she comes from.

The Marines and Harry have tossed away the knives and thrown up the peace flag but the repercussions linger on. Rep. Beall (R-Md) has revealed he sold a $1,000 fine arts insurance policy on the letter in which Mr. Truman said the Marines "have a propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's." Beall, by the way, is head of the insurance agency.

Russia's Andrei Vishinsky is also having trouble with America's pesky traffic laws. A Long Island patrolman, often troubled with the devil-may-care motor habits of Soviet diplomats, gave chase to a Cadillac zipping along at a smooth 60 - per. Flagged down, the car contained Vishinsky and three unsmiling colleagues. Andrei wanted to veto the whole situation but the Erin-born law enforcer doled out a stern reprimand to the Russians — and nobody walked out.

Take it from Lex Barker, the Hollywood-brand Tarzan wouldn't last three days in his supposed natural environs of Darkest Africa. Lex, who plays the tree-swinging hero in the films, returned from a visit to Africa with one comment, "It's not for me." He said with tsetse flies, poisonous snakes and hordes of other pests, Tarzan would come to an early demise in the Dark Continent.

Mikhail Sholokhov, Russian novelist has decided to chip in with his opinion of the bow-ties that usually adorn the neck of President Truman. Writing in Pravda, he said he noted that the American President seems to prefer bow-ties and wished to remind him that among the Nazis condemned at Nurenberg, there also were many lovers of bright neckties. All of them, Sholokhov said, wound up with a noose around their neck. Along with the necktie tirade, Sholkhov blithely added that Mr. Truman was "a despised hypocrite," "a bigot," and "the personification of human baseness."

A case of alimony oft times is a troublesome item but a double portion of the stuff can send a man in the general direction of a straight jacket. Rhumba king Xavier Cugat was quite docile when told he must pay $12,338 back alimony to his first wife, Carmen Castillo. But scarcely had he dug his talented hand into his pocket, the court ruled he must pay $2000 monthly temporary alimony to his second spouse, Lorraine Allen. Cugie is taking it like a real lusty Latin but one more assessment will render the musician flat in more ways than one.

Fellow musician Billy Mills is also increasing his list of female enemies but without incurring a deficit. Billy was the recipient of unladylike glares when he was declared the winner of the Ladies Day cooking contest at the Los Angeles County fair. The Hollywood musician won first prize for his entry of corn relish made with his grandmother's recipe. Mills admitted that his grandmother used to win county fair prizes all over Michigan years ago with the recipe.

NLRB Legal Aide Named by Truman to General Counsel Job

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—President Truman today promoted an affable 40-year-old career attorney of the National Labor Relations board to the general counsel's job vacated by Robert N. Denham.

George J. Bott, Democrat, a graduate of George town university and Yale Law school, was the White House choice for Denham's $15,000 a year post.

Denham quit at President Truman's request climaxing a running fight between the general counsel's office and the five-man NLRB over jurisdiction and administration of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Denham and the board had feuded since the 1947 act went into effect, giving the general counsel sweeping powers to prosecute cases, seek injunctions, halt unfair labor practices, and administer agency functions generally. Labor unions said Denham could be a "labor czar" and they called for his dismissal.

Bott, a native of Connecticut, told reporters he saw no reason why he and the board could not get along.

HE QUICKLY renewed the old arrangement under which all public information for the board and general counsel's office was handled by one person and staff. Bott extended support to Louis G. Silverberg, the veteran information director who had been criticized by Denham and told to stay out of his office.

Bott said he would confer immediately with the board members on pressing problems. Several pending cases will be re-surveyed. Bott indicated he might reverse Denham's portion on some points.

As for the Taft-Hartley act, Bott said: "It's the law and should be enforced."

"I don't think I should make any broad general statements about whether it's a fair law or not," he added. "I never did about the Wagner act when I was helping to enforce it.

"I expect to administer and try to enforce the law to the best of my ability, efficiently and fairly. I think you ought to handle each case as it comes up. This is a judicial agency and it doesn't do to make broad plans or statements. There are a lot of problems around and I hope to get at them one by one."

His appointment comes while Congress is in recess and he will have to win Senate confirmation after Nov. 27.

Tuberculosis Mobile Unit to Take X-Rays At Schools, YMCA, 3 Days Next Week

Think you might have tuberculosis?

You can find out definitely next week when a mobile tuberculosis X-ray detection unit comes to Pottstown for three days.

On Monday Ninth grade pupils, athletes and teachers in the Pottstown Junior high school will be X-rayed.

And on Thursday and Friday a community X-ray examination for everybody will be given in the YMCA between 1 p. m. and 8 p. m.

* * *

NO APPOINTMENT is necessary for examination at the YMCA, Dr. Stanley M. Nowacki said last night. "All a person has to do is to show up," Dr. Nowacki explained. He added that a written report of each person examined will be mailed to that person after X-ray films are developed and studied.

A nominal charge of $1 will be made for examinations at the YMCA, while a charge of 50 cents will be made in the Junior high school.

"Both of these charges are below cost," Dr. Nowacki pointed out, "but funds realized from the sale of Christmas seals will be used to make up the difference."

* * *

THE HILL SCHOOL employes will be X-rayed at that school Wednesday between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. Costs, the same, $1 per X-ray, will be footed by the school.

Pupils will not be X-rayed unless they request it. Before coming to school, each pupil must have received an X-ray check for TB.

Like the other pictures, X-ray photos taken at The Hill will be sent to the Phipps institute, Philadelphia, for study.

The Hill school has extensive X-ray equipment, but it would take months to have all employes checked, it was pointed out. Using the mobile unit's services, it can be done in a day.

Originally it had been planned to have the mobile unit examine workers in the Stanley G. Flagg plant in Stowe, but the necessary arrangements could not be made and this plan was cancelled.

U. S. commercial production of filberts is largely limited to Oregon and Washington.

Release Time Okayed For Pupils by Board At West Pottsgrove

One hour release time for children in the Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth grades attending religious schools was granted last night by the West Pottsgrove school board.

Only one of the four township churches that normally conduct the schools one day a week, has requested release time this year, James T. Jones, supervising principal, reported.

The release time was granted for all churches, however, in anticipation of future requests.

It was reported medical examinations for the children in the odd grades at the school were begun the past Tuesday. They are being conducted by Dr. Harry K. Marcy Jr., Pottstown physician.

* * *

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS authorized the purchase of 12 raincoats for the use of the school safety patrol. It is the first time these items of equipment have been bought for the patrol by the school.

A report was made on the progress of the construction of the sidewalk in front of the school. The work was begun under contracts awarded a month ago.

The brief business meeting of the board included the payment of monthly bills and a report of the township tax collector. The next meeting will be held Thursday, Oct. 26.

Mt. Vernon, Wis., started a "Forest of Fame" in 1916, with trees from the birthplaces of distinguished persons.

AOPA Shown Films, Hears Philadelphia Man

A talk by Jack Devins, chairman of the Philadelphia Aircraft Owners and Pilots association, and the showing of two films, highlighted last night's meeting of the Pottstown AOPA at Lakeside inn, Limerick.

Devins gave a report on the annual Fall round-up of the National AOPA held at Wildwood, N. J. Sept. 9. Twenty local fliers attended the affair.

He also invited the local fliers to attend the Aviation association ball in Town hall, Philadelphia, Dec. 8.

James J. Moore, chairman of the local unit showed two patriotic movies to conclude the session, attended by 38 members.

The unit's next "brunch" flight will take the fliers to Milford, Del., Sunday, Oct. 8, it was announced.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A MOTORIST stopped at a tiny crossroads gas station and when he wasn't served immediately, called out sarcastically, "Everybody in this one-horse burg suddenly drop dead?" Uncle Ezry, rocking peacefully on the porch, took the corncob out of his mouth, and called back, "'Tain't likely. You're the first buzzard we seen around here today."

Elliot Paul thinks advertising agencies in Paris move in strange ways their marvels to perform. He says he was crossing the Place Denton one day, in the St. Michel quarter, when a small, shabby man slipped him a handbill. Paul was astonished to discover it carried a line-cut of one of Cezanne's late portraits of himself, after the French master had grown bald. It seemed odd that a furtive little man should be distributing Cezanne reproductions gratis, and then he noticed the caption below the sketch: "Don't let this happen to you." On the reverse side was a pitch for a new brand of hair tonic.

Tickle Your Funnybone

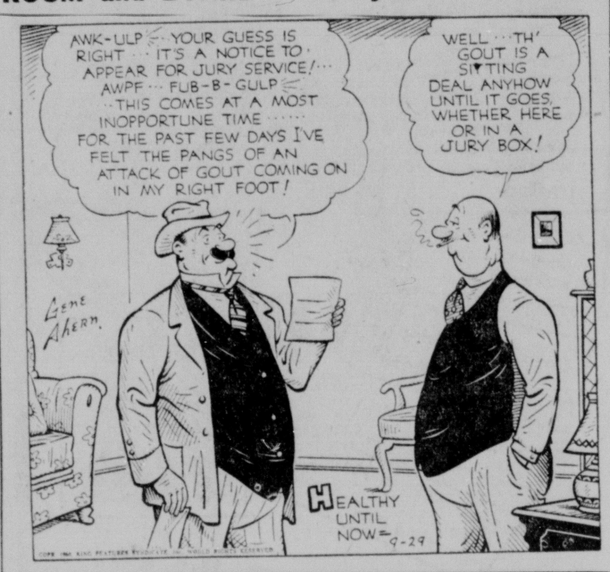

A foreign delegate to the UN motored through New England and was reported to have been shocked by the "open display of sex nindedness in that part of the country."

When asked what he meant specifically, he said, "Well, as I drove along the highway, it confronted me again and again. First it was 'Soft Shoulder,' then, 'Dangerous Curves,' 'Five Gals for $1.00,' 'Try Ethyl,' and finally 'Watch Out for Children.'"—Gas Service in Coronet.

Trojans Seek Second Win As Ben Franklin Invades

Set to Battle Bennies

"Mysterious" Foe Boasts Big Line, Speedy Backfield

Pottstown High takes on a brand new and "mysterious" rival tonight when Ben Franklin High of Philadelphia sends its gridders to Franklin field for a 8 o'clock tete under the portable arcs.

Never before has a Trojan team met a Bennie team, nor do Pottstown coaches know what to expect from their city cousins this evening. Ben Franklin will be opening its season, which fact ruled out previous scouting.

But cold facts show that the PHS line will be outweighed upward of ten pounds per man and that the visitor will field one of the beefiest forward walls to make an appearance on Franklin field since West Chester's hulking forwards took the turf in 1949.

Happily, Trojan hunting in the beef belt has been good—the locals last year were able to knock over any team that held an advantage on the scales.

COACH HERB MEYERS said there would be no alterations in the Trojan lineup that faced Upper Merion Monday night, but indicated that he'll dip more freely into his reserve brigade at the first sign of a foul up.

Slated to see more extensive service is guard Fred Paprocki, who twinkled defensively against the Spartans, but had not been able to master offensive blocking patterns before the test.

In the backfield, it will be Six-Yard Sam Green, Ale Czarick, Earl Decker and Stan Chaplin.

IT COULD BE that Chaplin will limber his throwing arm more frequently tonight, especially if the slogging through the hefty Bennie forwards becomes too difficult.

Stan flipped four for one completion Monday, while Green tossed once unsuccessfully. It was a far cry from the expected aerial circus.

Yesterday, the Trojans tapered off, but spent a great deal of time doing it. In place of the customary short workout, the Meyersmen were busy until nearly 6 o'clock, sharpening defensive patterns, kick returns and pass defense.

The job was doubly tough because even the probable Ben Franklin formation will remain a secret until whistle time.

ON THE FACTUAL side, Ben Franklin boasts a line averaging 184 pounds per man. Pivotman Gordon Saul, 200-pounder, is the big boy, but not so much that his mates would notice it.

The Bennie backfield goes at 166 on the average, with fullback Ward Hall, a 180-pounder, billed as the sparkplug. Carl Sheldon calls the signals for the visitors.

In 1949, the Ben Franklin unit, comparatively new in the Philadelphia Public league, suffered a disastrous season, but arighted itself on Thanksgiving Day to pin a 19-6 upset on Bok.

Backers of the Bennies like to think that the victory put the central-city school on the football upgrade. A victory over the young Trojans tonight would go a long way in proving it.

"Spirited Season" Seen By Trojan Grid Mentor

A spirited but not necessarily an outstanding season for the 1950 Trojans was predicted by Coach Heber T. Meyers at a meeting of the American Business club last night.

Meyers forecast his Pottstown High gridders would turn in a number of good games. They would not win all of them, he pointed out, but would provide good competition for their opponents.

He said he expected Norristown's squad to provide a lot of trouble, but felt the Trojans would do well in all their important league games.

Meyers explained not too much could be expected from the 1950 squad because it is made up chiefly of sophomores. In addition, he went on to say, this year the team experienced the smallest turnout of new material since he has been coaching at the school.

A lack of pre-season training also will cut into the team's efficiency, he believed. Meyers was quoted as saying the team did not have its usual amount of Summer training because of lack of funds to pay for a longer stay at the Pottstown Community camp.

Davey O'Brien of TCU participated in 400 running and passing plays during the 1937 football season — which still stands as a record.

Bears to Field Veteran Eleven Against Drexel

COLLEGEVILLE, Sept. 29 — Before what is expected to be a capacity crowd, the Ursinus College Bears open their 1950 gridiron season tomorrow afternoon on Patterson Field against the Dragons of Drexel Institute.

Headed by captain Don Young, an aggregation that will have veterans manning all but one position has been selected by Coach Ray Gurzynski who is starting his first season as head mentor.

Starters on the offensive combine will be ends, Gene Pascucci, of Norristown, and Bob Swett, of Madison, N. J.; tackles, Johnny Ehnot, of Phoenixville, and Frank Lafferty, of Norristown; guards, Steve Muench, of Audubon, N. J., and Jack Reich, of Egg Harbor, N. J., center, Bill Helfferich, of Collegeville.

The backfield will have Bill Poore, of Pennington, N. J., at quarter; Bill Fischer, of Quakertown at righ half; Young, of Catasauqua, at left half, and freshman Ben Maliken, at full.

The encounter will be the 19th between the two schools with a 9-7 record in favor of Drexel and two ties. Last year at Philadelphia the Dragons scored a fairly easy 21-0 triumph over the Bears.

Norco Gets Backfield Help; Eagles Healing

Much needed help for Norco High's Fearless Franny Wampler was added to the Wildcat squad this week as it prepped for a major engagement with Royersford's strong Eagles.

Bob Swavely, wiry little halfback who shared ground-gaining honors with Wampler in 1949, but decided to bypass football this year, was persuaded to change his mind. Swavely has been working out with the Cats all week, and while he will not open against the Birds, he is expected to see extensive action.

But while Coach Bill Paolantonio was adding, injury was subtracting from his already undermanned squadron. Regular end Bob Ickes was felled with a painful rib injury that will cancel his football for at least two weeks.

IN PLACE OF Ickes, Jim Batdorf, last of a long line of gridiron Batdorfs to matriculate at Norco, will take up the wing slot.

Paolantonio has been stressing end play over the week in effort to bolster his team for an expected outside attack by the Eagles. He was particularly pleased with the fine defensive play of long Bill Jones in Saturday's opener at Collegeville.

Meanwhile, the news was better at the Royersford drill field. Al Fischer, regular right halfback who missed the Boyertown opener because of illness, was back in harness.

Still weak from an attack of yellow jaundice, the youngster is not expected to start Saturday, but he, too, will see considerable service.

* * *

BOYERTOWN HIGH, girding for the invasion of a peppery, twice-victor West Reading band, reported near full strength.

Coach Bob Fleming, in no way disappointed over an opening loss to Royersford, planned to start largely the same lineup that faced the Fords.

That is, if banged up ankles under Gene Rothenberger and Dick Yergey come around. The two ace ground-gainers suffered twisted joints in the Ford tussle.

If Rothenberger is unable to start, Bob Magee will open at right half and George Unger, who jogged 70 yards for the Bears' first TD of the year last Saturday, will hold forth at fullback.

Fleming has spent considerable time readying newcomer Laverne Gresh for action. The tall baseballer-basketballer is being spotted for a defensive tackle, offensive end job. He is expected to bolster the Bruin pass-reception division, that was not up to par the past weekend.

West Reading invades with a 2-0 log after having trimmed Coplay, 19-13, and bounced West Pottsgrove, 37-6, on successive outings.

EAST GREENVILLE, figured a lop-sided favorite over Collegeville, has uncovered some new talents, principally in quarterback Ken Miller, who has confined his activity to blocking for the most part.

Ken probably will be given more ball-carrying assignments, giving the Greenies a four-prong running attack. Ray Stoneback, Mike Duka and Robby Frank are all handy gentleman when hauling the hide.

Miller also is in line for punting and kickoff duties after booting some beauties in practice sessions.

Collegeville hopes to thwart the Greenies with one of its best lines in recent history. Tackle to tackle, the Cols will carry a weight advantage.

SPRING CITY'S Pirates, another overwhelming favorite in their go with Schwenkville, have been driven through intensive practice sessions by Coach Gene Groff after a 25-12 opening loss to East Greenville.

Groff pointed out mistakes in attack and defense after reviewing movies of the game with his charges, then sent them to the drill field for several rough and tumble scrimmage sessions this week.

Lee Engle, stellar regular wingman, reported ready for full time action again and will be the only replacement in the lineup that faced the Green Wave.

Phils Bow Twice, Need One Win For Flag; Yanks Maintain Lead

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies suffered their second doubleheader defeat in as many days at the hands of the New York Giants today but the blows were somewhat softened as they are assured of finishing in no worse than a tie for the pennant.

Eddie Sawyer's Whiz Kids were beaten by identical 3-1 scores but the Boston Braves lent a helping hand by splitting a doubleheader with the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers to prevent the Dodgers from winning the flag in regular season play.

The Phils' once comfortable lead now stands at three games over Brooklyn. The Phils have two games left to play in the Dodgers' lair. The Dodgers have four games left and in order to tie the Phils they must win all of their games while the Phils drop their two. The Brooks play the Braves a third straight doubleheader tomorrow and then take on the Phils in single games Saturday and Sunday.

Sal Maglie turned in a five hitter for the Giants in the opener to post his 18th victory. Two home runs by Bobby Thomson, his 23rd and 24th of the year, provided the Giants with their margin of victory.

IN THE NIGHTCAP, Sheldon Jones, beaten three times by the Phillies earlier in the season, checked the Whiz Kids with seven hits. In this game, the first Philly batter, Eddie Waitkus, homered and that was all the scoring off Jones.

The Giants tied it up on Eddie Stanky's clout into the upper left field seats in the sixth and won the game in the seventh when Whitey Lockman's blooper single to left with the bases full as he was ducking away from an inside pitch fetched home the two deciding runs. There were two out when Lockman delivered. In the ninth the first two Phil batters, Del Ennis and Willie Jones singled. But first baseman Monte Irvin of the Giants made a spectacular backhanded stab of Granny Hamner's whistling line drive and stepped on the bag for an unassisted doubleplay. Andy Seminick popped up for the final out.

The victory was Jones' 13th. The Giant righthander was opposed by Robin Roberts, ace of the Philly staff who suffered his 11th reverse against 19 wins.

Braves Help

BROOKLYN, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Boston Braves jolted the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8-4, in the second game of a doubleheader today to prevent the Dodgers from possibly winning the National League pennant in regular season play.

Brooklyn took the opener, 6-5, and the split moved the Dodgers to within three games of the league-leading Philadelphia Phils who lost a doubleheader to the New York Giants. The Dodgers have four games to play, a doubleheader with the Braves tomorrow and single games with the Phils on Saturday and Sunday.

Bob Chipman, who last year pulled a surprise victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in the tight finish, was hammered for 13 hits, as many as the Braves made, but he held on and went all the way for his seventh win against as many losses in the nightcap.

The Braves won this game in the seventh. It was 3-3 at the time. They scored three more runs in this frame against Brooklyn's third pitcher, Ralph Branca. Sid Gordon tripled with one away, and, with the infield drawn in, Jackie Robinson fumbled a sharp grounder off Tommy Holmes' bat for an error that broke the tie. Del Crandall folowed with his fourth homer of the season.

An error by Robinson on a possible DP ball by Gordon, in the first also hurt the Dodgers. The throw to first was wild with one out and the bases loaded, sending two runs across.

Cards Win

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals hammered Ken Raffensberger for nine hits in 2 1/3 innings tonight and went on to beat Cincinnati 7-0 behind the six hit performance of Howard Pollet. Chuck Diering got two doubles that were good for four Redbird runs.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28 (AP)—Little Phil Rizzuto hit a clutch single in the 10th inning today to give the New York Yankees a 8-6 victory over last place Philadelphia and at least a tie for the 1950 American League pennant.

The Yanks lead the runner-up Detroit Tigers by 2½ games. The Tigers kept their slim hopes alive by beating the St. Louis Browns, 4-3, in 12 innings. The Yanks have two games left to play and the Tigers three. In order for the Tigers to tie they must win all of their three games while the Yanks lose their two.

Rizzuto's money hit into centerfield came after catcher Joe Tipton hit his sixth home run off starter Vic Raschi with one out in the last of the ninth to tie the score at 6-6. It was the second straight day a Philadelphia home run shook up the Yanks in the ninth. Only yesterday, Sam Chapman's one out circuit belt with a man on beat the New Yorkers.

But the Bronx Bombers were not to be denied today. Bobby Shantz, the pint-sized southpaw had handcuffed them since he came on in relief with two out in the third. After Reynolds opened the 10th by flying out to left, Cliff Mapes doubled into the left field corner. Then Rizzuto belted a Shantz pitch into center and Mapes reached home. Two more singles scored a superfluous run.

Tigers Win in 12

DETROIT, Sept. 28 (AP) — A dead game bunch of Detroit Tigers cashed in on a great break today to edge the St. Louis Browns 4-3 in a dramatic 12-inning battle that kept alive their slender hopes of a tie in the American League pennant race.

The Tigers, trailing 3-2 with one out in the last of the ninth, fought their way back into the game as pinchhitter Aaron Robinson, goat of a key loss in the Cleveland series, slammed a home run to knot the score.

Then, after getting a two-hit relief performance from busy little Hal White, the Tigers finally broke the game up as Brownie pitcher Duane Pillette saw his luck run out in the 12th.

Pat Mullin opened that inning with a walk and Hoot Evers dropped a sacrifice bunt down the third base line. Don Lenhardt failed to come up with the ball cleanly.

Lenhardt finally pounced on the ball while Mullin roared toward third, and he uncorked a throw in an effort to cut the Tiger outfielder down there. But the bag was uncovered and Mullin romped home as the ball went into left field on the hit and error.

Bosox Score

BOSTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—The smallest Fenway Park crowd in several seasons — 2411 paid — watched the Red Sox gain a 4-3 decision over the Washington Senators today.

Righthander Willard Nixon was rushed in to save the victory for lefthander Chuck Stobbs who registered his 12th decision of the season.

Grid Guesses

Trojans, Hill Picked to Triumph

By JOE MUCH

Encouraged by a tolerable .800 average on 40 rights and ten misses over the past weekend, your selector can move right (we hope) into the current crop of football contests with new vim.

In 1949 at this time, we were toiling far down in the .700's and it took a load of upsets to get us out of trouble.

But this week promises its share of closies, both on the area high school scene and national collegiate card.

Looking first at our area prep teams:

BEN FRANKLIN at POTTSTOWN: The Trojans impressed only with their lack of impressiveness Monday night, but should be better. The Bennies are making their first start of the campaign, and that is the tipoff. Pottstown, by a hair.

WILLIAMSON TRADE at HILL: Lamar Hunt and company are partial strangers, but probably loaded again. Loaded enough, at any rate, to waffle the Willies. Hill.

NORCO at ROYERSFORD: This figures as a romp for the home team once it wears down the Wildcat behemoths in the wall. By Three TDs, Royersford.

WYOMISSING at WEST POTTSGROVE: The Falcons figure to be better after a combat experience, but still not good enough. Wyomissing.

COLLEGEVILLE at EAST GREENVILLE: Custer's last stand was a picnic. In a romp, East Greenville.

SPRING CITY at SCHWENKVILLE: The hosts have a 15-man squad. They'll need much more. Spring City.

WEST READING at BOYERTOWN: The Cowboys are geared for go, but figure too light for the bruising Bears. It will be good. Boyertown.

And going collegiate:

DREXEL at URSINUS: My Collegeville alma mater figures to surprise. We're loyal, but we'll be surprised if they do. Close, but the pick is Drexel.

VIRGINIA at PENN: Memories, memories, but here's a shaky vote for the Quakers.

COLGATE at ARMY: We're a country at war and our Army's never lost. Army.

GEORGETOWN at PENN STATE: Rip Engle has a good offensive machine and figures to outscore the Washingtonians. State.

NORTH CAROLINA at NOTRE DAME: The Tarheels had a toughie with N. C. State and State is no Notre Dame. Say four TDs, Notre Dame.

MICHIGAN STATE at MICHIGAN: Here could be an early duel for national honors, and, of course, state pride. The coin says Michigan State.

ALABAMA at TULANE: Dixie's top attraction with flying footballs the prospect. Tulane is a notoriously late starter and 'Bama already had been baptized. On that alone, Alabama.

BRIEFLY AROUND the horn:

EAST

Yale over Brown, Maryland over Navy, Bucknell over Muhlenberg, Cornell musses Lafayette, Dartmouth eases by Holy Cross, Princeton breezes against Williams, Syracuse over Temple, West Virginia edges Washington and Lee, Carnegie Tech over Davis-Elkins, Gettysburg over Western Maryland, F&M over Johns Hopkins, Lebanon Valley over Mt. St. Mary, Moravian over Upsala, Bloomsburg over Lock Haven, Delaware over West Chester, Westminster to edge Juniata, and Susquehanna over Wagner.

MIDWEST

Detroit over Wayne, Illinois over Ohio, Indiana edges Nebraska, Northwestern over Iowa State, Kansas routs Denver, Kansas State over Colorado, Wisconsin bumps Marquette, Minnesota over Washington, Missouri over Clemson, SMU surprises Ohio State, Oklahoma bounces Boston College, TCU over Oklahome A&M.

SOUTH

Vanderbilt trounces Auburn, Duke to edge Pitt, Florida over Duquesne, George Washington over VMI, Georgia Tech over South Carolina, Kentucky over Mississippi, LSU, a hunch to cool off College of Pacific, Miami over Citadel, Tennessee over Mississippi State, N. C. State trims Catawba, Wake Forest over Richmond, Cincinnati over William and Mary.

SOUTHWEST

Arkansas over No. Texas State, Baylor over Houston, Santa Clara over Rice, Texas tops Purdue, Texas Aggies over Texas Tech.

WEST

Utah over Arizona, Colorado Aggies over Colorado College, Utah State over Wichita, California over Oregon, Idaho over Montana, Montana State trims East Washington, Southern Cal to edge Iowa Stanford over San Francisco, UCLA over Washington State.

Norco, Royersford Tab Field Hockey Victories

North Coventry and Royersford were shutout winners in Perkiomen-Schuylkill Valley league field hockey tilts yesterday.

The Kittens of Norco nicked Pennsburg, 1-0, on the losers lawn, while Royersford trimmed Schwenkville, 2-0, at Royersford.

Joyce Giles threaded through a maze of legs and sticks to shove across the only Norco tally in the first period. She was given a neat assist on the play by Millie Wilson, Norco's left wing.

Goalie Berricker defended the Kitten nets valiantly, making several brilliant stops to preserve the opening game shutout.

AT ROYERSFORD Catherine Lenhart and Mary Alexander scored the goals that gave the Eaglets their 2-0 victory. Miss Lenhart scored in the first period and Miss Alexander in the second.

In jayvee games, Pennsburg trimmed Norco, 3-2, while Royersford and Schwenkville battled to a scoreless tie.

Beshore, Savold Figure in Plans Of Ezzy Charles

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—They still wept for Joe Louis in Harlem today. And they finally gave Ezzard Charles the credit that was long overdue him.

For Charles, heavyweight champion of the world except in Britain, the future was rosy. This November he most likely will meet Freddie Beshore, the Harrisburg, Pa., mauler he defeated last August, in his home town of Cincinnati.

After that, more fights, more money, and an outdoor Summer shot with Lee Savold, the British recognized heavyweight king from Englewood, N. J.

For Louis it will mean a different type of life. Beaten in 15 rounds by Charles last night, Joe announced his final retirement.

No more will he cut in on the big end of fights—fights that earned him more than $4,000,000 in purses alone. There's income ahead for Joe—from the International Boxing club, his Chicago auto school, a Michigan brewery—but not the huge sums which he lost in ill-advised investments, lavish living, and in handouts to hundreds of people.

The downfall of the great Brown Bomber brought silence and tears to the Negro population in Upper Manhattan as it did to the Harlems all over the world.

And it wasn't only Louis' race that felt heartsick and sorry for the once magnificent champion, who couldn't come back at 36.

Everywhere people shook their heads and said "he shouldn't have tried."

But Joe had to try once more. A heavy income tax debt owed to Uncle Sam forced him to bring his heavy, tired body back into the glare of the ring's lights.

Irish Horses Shipped

BELFAST, Ireland, Sept. 28 (AP)—Six horses of the Eire Army jumping team were loaded aboard the freighter American Builder today bound for horse shows in the United States. The team will appear at Harrisburg, Pa., New York and Toronto during the Winter.

Flag Insurance?

In hopes of possibly bolstering their infield, the pennant-pursuing New York Yankees have had Charles (Mickey) Mantle, Joplin, Mo., shortstop, working out with the Gotham club.

Junior High 11 Opens Card at Phoenixville

A rebuilt band of Junior High Golden Cubs rip the lid from a strenuous eight-game grid season today when they take on Memorial Junior High of Phoenixville in a 3 o'clock encounter on the foe field.

Coach Gene Kauler will be introducing an almost completely new array of Cubs after graduation stripped him of ten of his 1949 starting stars.

Husky Jack Babel, 1949 pivotman, is the only returnee, and he has been shifted to a right tackle job.

The Kaulermen otherwise will line up with Linwood Bieler and Tom Fiorillo at ends, Milt Wensel at left tackle, Bill Fisher and Joe Rettew at guards and Tom Lindauer at center.

In the Cub running corps will be quarterback John Sova, halfbacks Red Kerr and Jonathon Smoyer and hefty fullback Raymond Donnelly of Limerick.

KERR, WHO was an understudy on the brilliant 1949 brigade, is rated the current crop's top offensive threat. Fairly fast and deceptive the redhead has the stuff to go all the way on the quick-openers that the Cub attack features.

Sova, an eighth-grade newcomer to Cub spangles, is considered a good passer, although not of the calibre of Dave Ricketts, last year's field general.

The team's crusher is Donnelly, who stands six feet tall and weighs in at a healthy 185 pounds. Green when he joined the team, Donnelly has come along fast and is expected to fill in nicely where Walt Nixon left off.

BEHIND THE probably starting array, Kauler numbers some 19 eager young ball players who likely will see plenty of action this season. They include: Ends, Roger Wiend, James Porter and Dick Kirlin; tackles, James Kirk, Dave Reichman, Clarence Knipe, Walter Von Hoehn, Dale Leader and Bob Drumheller; centers, Dick Kovach and Ken Gaugler; guards, Bob Troutman, John Streett, Paul Feight and Bob Grim, and backs Howard Bedell, Roy Hoff, Delmar Eltz, Bruce Missimer and Lawrence Jones.

"Confidence," said Kauler, "is our major need at the moment. If we can get by Phoenixville, we'll hold our own despite the loss of a nearly complete team."

Troiad Campaign Gets Under Way

By EUGENE ZELEZNICK

This week in Pottstown High school the Troiad campaign began. Pictures had to be taken, patrons had to be solicited, subscriptions had to be collected, and editorials had to be written.

All of these things involve a great deal of work and a number of people. The students did most of the work under the guidance of Mr. Von Drach and Mrs. Clemens.

This book, besides being an excellent album, will have many other valuable points. There will be the different athletic and activities pictures, the interesting editorials, the amusing idiosyncrasies—all these things and many more will be in the Troiad. A great deal of enjoyment will result from owning this book, especially in later years.

Many of the students who found enjoyment in this book in past years subscribed to it again. Most students realize the value of the Troiad. It is here where they can see their fellow classmates. Here also they will find pictures of their teachers.

A person does not miss anything until he does not have it. This holds true with the Troiad. It is especially true of the underclassmen, who are wrong in their belief that they are not in the Troiad.

All students who can afford it should try to get one every year they are in high school. Every senior should double his efforts to get one.

In Pottstown Senior High

40 Pupils Try Out For '50 Class Play

By MARIAN RIFE

Forty members of the Senior class have tried out for the much-coveted roles in the 1950 Senior class play during the past week. After the final cast is selected, rehearsals will be held every day after school in the auditorium.

The action takes place in the living room of the Reardons, who are a typical American family living in a small town in New Jersey. The mother is a social-climber determined to marry off her daughter to a Park avenue "catch." Before her plans are foiled by Grandma Reardon and a would-be actress, a chain of events occurs which are hilarious but normal.

The many committees involved in the success of the play are in charge of Earl Strange, general chairman, while Kenneth J. Gable will direct the production. Pupils not chosen for parts will serve on the committees.

There will be a student-matinee on Nov. 15, at 8:40 a. m. The final show will be presented Nov. 16, at 8:30 p. m.

679 Are Enroled In Senior High

By C. NEYENESCH

In the three grades of which the Senior High school is composed, there are 679 pupils.

Of this total figure, there are 327 boys, while the girls number 352. Only in the sophomore class do the boys outnumber the girls. And even here it is only by the small margin of 11. There are 160 Seniors, 196 Juniors and 323 Sophomores.

Classifying this total according to courses shows that there are 283 students taking the academic or college preparatory course, 187 in the commercial groups, 156 in the vocational department, and 53 girls in the home economics department.

Pep Rally Is Held For U. Merion Game

By JUNE CORE

Friday afternoon, Sept. 22, a pep rally was held in the High school auditorium, in preparation for the game between Pottstown and Upper Merion.

Stanley I. Davenport Jr., vice principal of Senior High school, introduced Thomas Pollick, president of the athletic association, who was in charge of the program.

Varsity cheerleaders are Irene Sabold, Carole Merrin, Doris Burke, Joan Becker, Gwen Manthorne, Phylis McElroy and Gladys Krassowski.

Junior Varsity cheerleaders are Maria McPhail, Janet Pinmen, and Claudia Elicker.

Mr. Meyers, head coach and Mr. Grigg, one of the assistant coaches, encouraged their team to gain a victory over the opposing team.

Money Is Collected For Savings Stamps

By VIRGINIA ROSENBERRY

Each Tuesday morning in Pottstown High school two representatives in each home room collect money from students wishing to purchase United States Savings stamps or bonds.

The representatives record the denomination and amount of stamps or bonds they wish to order and then send the money and order to Miss Gertrude Harley, who directs the stamp and bond committee.

The orders and money are sent to the postoffice, where stamps and bonds are purchased.

Representatives of this committee are Joy Glenn, Patricia Grow, Marion Rife, Barbara Litz, Louise Keene, Marty Lou Smale, Richard Ludy, Walter Zubko, Jean Frederick and Patricia Prince, Yvonne Galloway, LeRoy Hallman, Barbara Roth, David Shaner, Irene Core, Ethel Freese, Florence Leopold, Nancy Werner and Thomas Eidell.

Also Shirley Fryer, Marilyn Dennish, Mary Hospador, Dick Heimbach, Ida Mae Shearer, Darlette Shellenberger, Mary Sikora, Joanne Romig, Dick Powell, Dorothy Saylor, Shirley Gable, Betty Moletress, Joy Seiler, Barbara Yocum, Paul Galloway, Gerald Miller, Richard Hallman and Galen Halteman.

John Barry Day Marked by Pupils

By JOHN PROSPERO and PHILIP SWEETWOOD

In observance of John Barry Day, Lillian Hoffer read over the public address system of Pottstown high school a short but informative report on John Barry, the patriot leader of the U. S. Navy in the struggle for America's independence.

Miss Hoffer's report brought to light the fact that Barry is sometimes called the "Father of the United States Navy," since he was the first commissioned officer.

Joseph Zachwieja broadcast a report entitled "The History of our National Anthem" for the local recognition of National Anthem Day. He explained the conditions which led to the composing of our National Anthem. It was written by Francis Scott Key on the night of Sept. 13, 1814, aboard a British warship, one of a fleet attacking Fort McHenry during the War of 1812.

Paul of the history department was in charge of the broadcasts.
